

Letter rate within Heights changed to three cents

The new revenue bill provides for increases in postal rates that will become effective March 26th. Increases are in the local letter rate in towns having city mail service (which formerly had a two cent an ounce rate). Other increases apply to air mail, parcel post, money order fees, registered mail, insured mail, COD packages, and senders' return receipts.

There is no increase in the cost of postal cards or for local mail in towns where a one cent an ounce is now effective. The two cent rate for local letter mail is abolished entirely. Such communities as Arlington Heights, Des Plaines and other towns enjoying city delivery service will hereafter pay three cents per letter.

Air mail is increased from six cents to eight cents, or any fraction thereof. The rate of six cents for each half ounce for letters sent through army and navy post-offices will still apply.

Parcel Post Increase
The postage on all parcel post (fourth class) has been increased three per cent, with fraction of one-half a cent or more being computed as one cent. This means that there is an increase of one cent on small packages over and above the rates previously charged.

Money Orders Fees
An increase from eight cents to ten cents has been made in the post office money orders below $2.51. For greater amounts the maximum for $5 is 14c; $10 is 19c; $20 is 22c; $40 is 25c; $60 is 30c; $80 is 34c; $100 is 37c.

REGISTERED MAIL
Registered mail has taken a big jump. Twenty cents is the fee that will be charged for values up to $5 with a charge of 25c for values up to $50.

The greatest increase is in the price charged for insured mail and for C. O. D. packages, which have both been doubled. Insured domestic mail will cost 20c for values between $5 and $25. The former fee was 10c. The fee for C. O. D. packages will be 24c for values up to $5 and 34c for values up to $25, which is also a hundred per cent increase. The return card on registered and insured mail has been increased from 3c to 4c.

When rationing was imminent, a lot of people went on a buying spree. They still have the chance to do a lot of mailing at the old rate until March 26th. After that date patrons of the postoffice will be paying cost of the war in a new way—postage stamps.

It is not as bad as it would seem at first because there is no change in the first class letter rate of three cents an ounce and the boys in service need no stamps at all.

Offers a live pig at St. Patrick's Day card party

St. Theresa church, under the auspices of the Men's Club, will hold its annual card and bunco party Friday, March 17th in the Palatine church hall.

Splendid individual table prizes have been procured and the ladies of the parish promise the usual fine refreshments.

In conjunction with the affair a live pig, a donation by Mrs. Annie Rainey of Smith road, a war bond and a wooly green blanket will be awarded the lucky winners.

Mrs. Edward Van Doren, of Quintans Road, has already disposed of over 70 books and is seeking the century goal. Everyone is welcome and assured of a splendid Irish evening.

Tickets may be procured from the men of the parish or at the door on the seventeenth—St. Patrick's Day.

St. Peter children choir appear in sacred concert

The Children's Choir of St. Peter Lutheran church of Arlington Heights will participate in a sacred concert Sunday evening, March 12 at Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, Ill. This concert is being sponsored by the Lutheran Mission Crusaders, an organization of Lutheran laymen in the Chicago Northwest Suburban area interested in establishing and maintaining mission stations at various localities within the Northern Illinois district.

It has been the practice of the organization for three successive years to sponsor a concert of this nature in order to raise funds to carry out its objectives. Each year the organization has called upon outstanding choirs of Greater Chicago to appear on the stage of the spacious gymnasium at Concordia Teachers College, River Forest.

The Children's Choir of St. Peter Lutheran Church, under the direction of Mr. Theo. Preuss, has appeared annually on program to gather with other choirs of meritorious achievement. Other choirs to be featured on this year's program are the Messiah Treble Choir

Cook county home bureau annual meeting

The third annual meeting of the Cook County Home Bureau was held recently in the Wedgewood room of Marshall Field's. More than 250 members present heard Miss Juliet Lita Bane, Head of the Home Economics Department of the University of Illinois, the principal speaker, discuss the homemaker in this turbulent world of today.

Reminding them that they were the candles that light up their small space, Miss Bane urged them to never let the light dim. She stated that the civilization in the past was judged on the beautiful monuments, and temples that were built. Women now need some knowledge of machinery to keep the home running smoothly, they must regulate the money so that the budget will balance and above all they must keep up the morale in the family. Miss Bane declared the homemaker is a physiologist who is on duty 24 hours a day.

Mrs. Ray Chambers of La Grange retiring president, presided at the meeting and from the reports of the unit chairmen, Mrs. Chambers leaves an enviable record for the ensuing officers to make.

Mrs. C. A. Hughes, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following names, who were elected by those attending: Mrs. C. W. Cutler, LaGrange, president; Mrs. L. J. Eib, Steger, vice president; Mrs. James Foggo, Palos Heights, secretary; and Mrs. Marshall Lindberg, Arlington Heights, treasurer. Members serving as the departmental heads will be Mrs. Edward Fritz, Arlington Heights, membership chairman; Mrs. F. Hlavacek, La Grange, 4-H chairman; Mrs. C. J. Hill, Des Plaines, north project chairman; Mrs. Albert Zuidema, Blue Island, south project chairman; and Mrs. Robert Sydnam, Des Plaines, recreational chairman.

Other speakers at the meeting were, Mr. Charles Glover, assistant county farm adviser and Mr. Jacob Owunga, president of the Farm Bureau.

Mrs. Marie Cornelius, home adviser for the county, a graduate economist, directs the major lesson of the home bureau during the year.

Musicians of high school city trip set for March 18

The date for the annual trip to Chicago, by the members of the Arlington Heights High School music department has been set for Saturday, March 18.

For a number of years this trip has been looked forward to and enjoyed by the students, for they have the time and the opportunity to visit such attractions as the Art Institute, Field Museum, Aquarium, and many others during the day, and then attend some outstanding musical program at night, such as the symphony or a radio broadcast.

Mr. Costain has secured tickets for the Chicago Theatre of the Air broadcast in the Medinah Temple, and 200 students plan to see and hear Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts" starring Marion Caire, popular radio soprano. The hour's broadcast will be accompanied by the WGN symphony and chorus, and will be a fitting climax to a full day.

Tax on telephone service goes up

Monthly telephone bills will take a jump after this month. The new revenue bill raises the government tax on monthly service from 10% to 15%. The tax on toll charges less than 25c will be 15% in place of ten percent. Toll calls over 25c will carry a 25% tax. The new tax rate goes into effect on April 1.

Speed up drainage petitions at Prospect Heights

The Prospect Heights Improvement association which will hold its next meeting at 8 on Wednesday evening, March 15, at the schoolhouse, on the corner of Palatine and Schoenbeck road, will receive a report of the volunteers who are canvassing the community for the purposes of obtaining the necessary signatures on the petitions for the establishment of a drainage district. Many have already completed their territory and a report on the latest drainage developments is expected to be made.

The drainage problem is one that confronts everyone in Prospect Heights, and a large attendance at these association meetings should be the rule rather than the exception at this time of the year, when it becomes evident that the community is in dire need of proper drainage facilities.

Ray, 'the milkman' leaves Arlington to farm in Lake Co.
Ray Hotopp of Meyer's Dairy is saying "goodbye" to his milk, egg and butter customers. As the farm that he has been occupying the past seven years has been sold as a subdivision, he had to look elsewhere. He found the ideal place thru an adv. in Paddock's papers and will have charge of a model farm six miles northwest of Barrington. He wants his egg customers to know that he is taking along his chickens and will be glad to supply them with eggs if they have the gas to come and get them.

Pump less water, get more revenue

The comparative financial statement presented to Arlington Heights village board Monday evening by the treasurer had interesting figures. The business of the water department has been booming. The village with three water collections in the past 10 months has collected within $130 as much money as was collected in four quarters of the previous year when the total collection was $25,675. The total collected up to March 1 this year is $25,544.

Not only has the village made greater sales of water but it has cost less money to pump the water. Due to water leak survey made last fall there are 100,000 less gallons of water pumped daily than a year ago. The total saving during the month of February was four million gallons.

Each month members of the board receive from the treasurer's office a complete financial picture of the village showing total receipts from each source for the previous year compared with the total receipts to date from the same sources for the current year. That report permits board members to see at once what receipts are lagging.

They learned Monday night that in spite of the plea to buy licenses at once there are a lot of people who have not yet done so. Fines are about a thousand dollars less than last year, which Mayor Good-ke says is good news.

Taxes are being paid in about the same ratio as last year except that there has been a decided increase in payment of taxes for 1936 and previous years.

The treasurer's report was not the only good news received by the board members Monday night. The health officer advised the board that aside from four cases of mumps there have been no instances of other contagious diseases during January and February.

The old pump removed from the north well was sold for $100 as salvage.

Kensington road has some pig trouble. Chief Skoog reported that a lawman at Dunton street leaves his post after putting down gates for extended periods ten minutes or more where ordinance specifies that gates shall not be closed longer than five minutes at any one time.

Honor girl scouts on birthday

Girl Scouting in America is 32 years old on March 12 and from March 12 to 18 over 817,000 Girl Scout members will celebrate Birthday Week in approximately 6500 communities. Happy Birthday Girl Scouts.

Girls who have earned badges in Troop No. 3 are Jean Baldwin five badges, Joan Cahill three badges, Irene Latoff, Patty Peterson, Ann Schwartz, Janet Hackbarth, and Andrea Kennedy have each earned two badges.

Barbara Atkinson, Helene Baker, Joan Dodge, Priscilla Glow, Sally Kellogg, Louis Koenig, Diane Rector and Elaine Govey have each earned one badge.

Troop No. 4 are busy working on needcraft to earn their badges. Mrs. E. A. Goldthwaite is assisting the girls in making samplers.

Nephew reported missing in raid over France

Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Abelnmann, 6247 Kenmore avenue, have been advised by the war department that their son, Staff Sgt. Henry W. Abelnmann, 21, a member of a heavy bomber crew operating over France, Sgt. Abelnmann entered the army a year ago. He was graduated from Senn High school and attended North Park college. A younger brother, Chris Abelnmann, is an aviation cadet in training at Santa Ana, Cal.

Sgt. Abelnmann is a nephew of Mrs. Henry Battermann of Palatine. His father is well known in this area as he was a boyhood resident of Palatine.

No town ever received a bigger "commercial"

The editor of the Herald had the privilege this week of reading a letter addressed to 'Mary' of 'Life with Mother,' that was written by a former editor of the Arlington Heights. The editor wishes he had the privilege of passing on to readers some of the things the writer told, but we ARE publishing one sentence. We believe it is the greatest commercial ever given to any community. Here it is: "When I die and go to Heaven—I hope—I will be very much disappointed if it doesn't look exactly like Arlington Heights."

Cook County leads state in number of farms

Not only does Cook County have more farms than any other county in Illinois, but it has the largest farm bureau membership in the United States. That membership is over 2900 today and is growing. Its head office is at Arlington Heights.

An eastern newspaper sarcastically remarked a short time ago that there really was some land in Cook County that was outside the city limits of Chicago.

Just how true that statement was can be seen from the Illinois farm acreage census just released by the Illinois Cooperative Crop Reporting Service and the Illinois U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This crop survey was gathered in every township of the state by the local assessors and represents most accurately just what Illinois and each county in the state is really doing in the farming industry.

According to this survey Cook County leads them all in the number of farms in the county. A farm is anything over 3 acres and Cook County has a total of 4216 farms with a total farm acreage of 251,871.

Many counties have a greater total acreage than Cook County but not as many individual farms. Cook County has 61,427 acres of corn, 37,703 acres of oats, 1045 acres of winter wheat, 1445 acres of spring wheat, 252 acres of rye, 1845 acres of barley, 103 acres of flax, 11,125 acres of soy beans grown for hay, 5316 acres of soy beans plowed under for a soil builder, 69 acres of cow peas for hay together with 28 acres of cow peas as a soil builder.

Sorghums of all kinds took up 361 acres and 10,497 acres were used for growing alfalfa hay.

Clover and timothy hay was grown on 16,782 acres, sweet clover hay on 336 acres, while there were 194 acres of lespedeza hay and 344 acres of red top hay.

All other varieties of hay took up 6031 more acres.

Sweet corn was grown on 3949 acres, while 21 acres was devoted to popcorn and 45 acres to broom corn.

Other truck and garden crops took up 2749 acres while 2153 acres was devoted to miscellaneous crops.

Flowland pasture accounted for 8144 acres and other pasture land such as timberland and wasteland comprised 47,625 acres.

Idle flowland amounted to 4753 acres.

While Cook county is not notorious as a fruit growing county, there is still considerable fruit grown in the county as testified to by the census of 22,563 apple trees, 2055 peach trees and 4148 pear trees.

Cook county is primarily a county of truck farms as can be seen by the 27,494 acres of truck and garden crops.

Union county in the southern part of the state is one of the greatest truck shipping centers of the country but Union county has only 4848 acres in truck crops. But when it comes to fruit, Union county really shows the way with 129,723 apple trees, 258,451 peach trees and 17,163 pear trees. From this census it can be seen that Cook county after all is an important farming county, especially in the production of garden truck and that eastern paper was more right than they knew, there is some land in Cook county outside of the city of Chicago and it's put to mighty good use in the production of food.

Village Board to get rough on License laggards

Police Commissioner R. J. Rizzi reminded the village board of trustees at their Monday night meeting that the deadline for all classes of licenses previously set for March 31st, was fast approaching and that he was glooming his on April First—"No Fooling!"

Delinquents on that date will have an opportunity to say, "Good Morning Judge" and pay for the privilege.

Chairman Rizzi stated that through check-up now in progress will take care of the matter of unpaid dog, vehicle and business licenses and respectfully requested the cooperation of the general public in avoiding a cluttering up of the police magistrate's docket with a lot of picayune cases.

Have you been called upon?

The annual drive for financial assistance to carry on the Boy Scout Work in Arlington Heights is just about completed. However, due to the manpower shortage and various other reasons it so happens that it was just about impossible to contact every home in Arlington Heights. If you have not been approached for a contribution by one of our workers and would like to contribute to this worthwhile work, please phone Mr. A. G. Culey at Arlington Heights 729 and he will be glad to make arrangements to accept your contribution.

Free machine shop training available at Des Plaines

Men and women between the ages of 16 and 60 may now enroll for free training in machine tool operations in the evening classes at Maine Township high school in Des Plaines.

Training in lathe work, shaper and milling machine operation, as well as bench work and tool grinding, is being offered on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 10 p. m. All expenses connected with training are taken care of by the Federal Government. Several new lathes were added to the shop equipment last summer through the War Training program.

These classes have been operating continuously, 15 hours a week, since April, 1941. However, as soon as one class of enrollees gain sufficient proficiency to secure part or full-time employment at one of the local war plants these vacancies are filled by new trainees.

1,200 Have Rec'd Training
During the past three years, more than 1,200 men and women, many from this community, have been enrolled in the day or evening classes at Maine. Many of those who took pre-employment courses have now taken supplementary work in the evenings while being regularly employed.

At the present time, due to the opening of additional in-plant training classes at Douglas, there are several vacancies in the evening shop classes in Des Plaines and interested persons should contact H. P. Harshbarger, supervisor of War Training program at the Douglas plant and at the Maine Township high school, for particulars. No previous experience in machine tool operation is required. J. C. Pendleton, regular machine shop teacher at Maine, will be in charge of all instruction on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Prospect Heights women strong for Red Cross work

Despite a month of blizzard and lots of bad weather, the women of the Prospect Heights Red Cross unit did not fail to do their share of work. In fact, the month of February is the record producing month of its existence, proving that Prospect Heights women are an ambitious lot and anxious to do their share of volunteer work.

Mrs. Kurt Krebs, production chairman, reports that there were 63 individual workers during the month, who put in 277½ hours of making, 537 hours of surgical bandage making, and 563 hours of knitting, for a total of 1,377½ working hours.

Items completed include 29 girls' slips, 1200 pairs men's pajamas, 230 army apron kits, 20 pairs gloves, 10 helmets, 10 watch caps, 2,700 4x4 sponges and 5,000 2x2 sponges.

Those who have completed 144 hours of work and are entitled to their pin and large red cross are Mrs. T. Sanden, Mrs. J. Cowling, Mrs. H. Schaeffer and Mrs. E. C. Green.

Those who have completed 72 hours work for the small red J. DeGroot, Mrs. M. Kritsch, cross include Mrs. A. Pressl, Mrs. Mrs. C. Elliott, Mrs. V. A. Liebhart, Mrs. R. Harrison and Miss Elaine Rundgren.

Must raise price of subscriptions to service men

The postoffice department has advised Paddock Publications that its postage bill is to be jumped over a hundred per cent because of the number of papers going to boys on the fighting fronts. It is inevitable that the special rate now permitted for subscriptions to service men must be raised. After April 1st no discount for service subscriptions can be given. The price will be $2.00 a year, the same as charged regular subscribers.

The publishers may increase the yearly subscriptions for those parts of the United States that are beyond the third zone.

Renominate 2 high school board members

Few attend school caucus

Notice was published in this paper for two consecutive weeks of a public caucus to be held on March 3rd for the purpose of nominating a president and two members of the high school board of education to be voted upon at the April election. About a dozen citizens, other than members of the board attended and in spite of the small attendance the meeting proceeded as planned.

The caucus chairman called for nominations from the floor for a president and two members of the board and the only nominations made were as follows:

President of board to serve for one year, C. I. Davis.

Member of board to serve for three years (from Arlington Heights), Paul Collins.

Member of board to serve for three years (from outside the corporate limits of Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect), Carl Klehm.

A petition for the above candidates was signed by those present. The high school board, among other things is responsible for the annual expenditure of more than $75,000 for the education of the boys and girls of the district. The meager attendance at the meeting must indicate public satisfaction of the present administration or else a complete lack of interest by the public in the administration of high school affairs.

W. R. Rowland given testimonial dinner by RR men

W. H. Rowland, 1218 Mayfair Road, Arlington Heights, was tendered a testimonial dinner Monday evening at the Grand Central Station dining room at Wells and Harrison street by the Chicago Passenger Club, the members of which organization are ticket agents of the Chicago railroads.

The occasion was the retirement of Mr. Rowland as ticket agent of the Union Station, Chicago, Feb. 1, after 57 years of railroad work. He is one of the most widely known ticket agents in the country and is past president of the Chicago Passenger Club and has served on the executive committee of the American Association of Railroad Ticket Agents.

Mr. Rowland's retirement came as a surprise to many of his co-workers who did not know that he was in the retirement age. The February bulletin of the Chicago Passenger Club reads in part: "Bill has done something that all of us hope for. He is retiring with ample good health and pep to enjoy his leisure time."

Mr. Rowland told the Herald this week that he expects to find plenty to do at his home, but his first thought is to enjoy life with Mrs. Rowland. "I appreciate the good wishes that are being showered on me by my friends at the Union Station," said Mr. Rowland. "I will miss them, but my home comes first. I will not have to catch trains, worry about reservations of the general public, will have time to work in my victory garden and be a good citizen of Arlington Heights. What greater reward can any man ask after nearly 60 years of labor?"

The Arlington Heights Herald joins the people of Stonegate and Arlington Heights in wishing him continued good health and many years in which to enjoy what he calls "being lazy."

Apron and bake sale Saturday

An Apron and Bake Sale will be held March 11 at 9:30 a. m. at 22 East Northwest Hwy. (Greenburg store). Buyers will have a chance to buy aprons of the very best materials, including permanent finish organdies, dimities, percales, prints and a few taffeta aprons. There are mother and daughter sets, pinafores, fancy tea aprons, as well as kitchen prints. There is a large collection of all sizes and styles. This is also a chance to save points on home cooked foods.

The apron and food sale is sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary unit No. 208, Arlington Heights. Mrs. P. May, Mrs. Harvey Daggett and Mrs. J. C. Jones are in charge.

Arlington Red Cross war fund drive opens

New Deadline

As long as the present manpower shortage continues in the publication plant of this paper the deadline for Arlington Heights news is Tuesday night. No guarantee can be given that matter received on Wednesday will appear.

Women beat men at many defense jobs

Eighty per cent of the jobs at the Douglas plant can be done better by women than men. That was the statement made this week by one of the men in the personnel department of that war plant. The alertness of body and nimble fingers of women make them especially suited to soldering the small wires and bending the small tubes that are such an important part of the Douglas Skymaster. Many of them can do the work in twice the speed of men.

That is given as the reason that the Douglas plant is offering so many jobs to womenfolk. They receive the same pay as the men. Many of them are becoming supervisors and hold other responsible positions. They are coming to the Douglas plant from families with means as well as from families who had need of more income to meet the increased cost of living or to pay off indebtedness.

Douglas is probably putting forth more effort to attract women to their plant than any other manufacturing firm. There are attractive rest rooms, ten minute rest periods twice each shift; special entertainment provided during the lunch period and the woman who comes to work in a silk waist will be able to wear it home in the same condition as though she was employed in a loop office. Such a policy is bringing results in caliber of women who are seeking employment there.

Douglas works in complete harmony with selective service boards. They ask that men discharged from armed forces who need jobs be sent to them at once. They seek to find a place for everyone sent to them. The experience that these boys had in army training, in the handling of guns, etc. make them valuable employees, states the personnel department.

Douglas is seeking more employees and is depending upon the surrounding communities to furnish them. The Douglas flying field, which is today one of the largest in the country, is expected to become the center of navigation after the war for the entire Chicago metropolitan area.

Eight young men reaching 18 years register for service

Eight young men residing in Cook County District One of the Selective Service, became 18 years of age during February and have registered with that board. They are: Anderson, Roy, 527 S. Hale St., Palatine; Hammond, Robert Ralph, County Line Rd., Barrington; Boesche, Erwin August, Railroad Ave. Mt. Prospect; Philippe, Herman Patre R. 1, Box 177, Palatine; Schaefer, Francis John, 931 W. Campbell St., Arlington Heights; Schmitt, Rudolph Robert, R. 1, box 2761, DesPlaines; Hafferkamp, Arthur William, R. 2, Box 148, Palatine; Jacobsen, Leonard Roy, R. 1, Box 245, Elgin; Henry, Robert John, 555 Banbury Rd., Arlington Heights.

Palatine people injured in accident at Arlington

A head-on collision at the intersection of Foundry road and Northwest highway at Arlington Heights early Saturday afternoon sent Mrs. Mess, Plum Grove Ave., Palatine to the hospital in that village with a broken right arm. Other occupants of her car were Mrs. Larsen and two children, five and two years old who escaped serious injury.

The other car was being driven by R. M. Bennett, Mt. Prospect rural mail carrier, who was uninjured. The pavement was covered by snow and ice which takes the blame for the accident.

Mrs. Mae Lewke, 614 So. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, fell when attempting to enter her car with a bag of groceries Wednesday with such force that she was unconscious for ten minutes. She was taken into the Palmer store where she was attended by Dr. E. A. Elfeld and was later able to return to her home.

Mrs. Lincoln Crane had her 81st birthday Tuesday. She had all her children home, except one daughter, Mrs. Clara Goodrich, of Marceline, Mo.

Local quota tops $6,000

The leaders of the Arlington Heights Red Cross War Fund Drive know that you will be ready to receive the volunteers who will call at your homes, beginning Wednesday, March 15 to collect your contribution to our $6000.00 goal.

They know that you will give generously, because you will remember what the American Red Cross means to our boys—our boys who are depending on us not to let them down.

They know that you will not forget, thinking of your own loved ones and those of your neighbors that your American Red Cross:

Sends food parcels to war prisoners.
Handles emergency messages for servicemen and their families.
Collects life-saving blood.
Provides comforts, cheer, and recreation in hospitals.
Makes surgical dressings.
Aids service families and disabled veterans.
Helps service men with personal problems.
Operates service club overseas.
Recruits army and navy nurses.
Helps in hundreds of ways when disaster strikes.

This year, the national Red Cross has a goal of $200,000,000. This means that in order to finance its 68 services during the 31,536,000 seconds of the next 365 days, $7 will be needed for each of those seconds.

Can you do without something you want or need to pay for some of those vital seconds? In each one of them your money is needed. It is needed to save lives, to balk grief and suffering, to soften the tragedy and desolation of war.

More than 90 per cent of your Red Cross dollar is used for the men of our own fighting forces—that means your own Joe and your friend's John next door.

This year the armed forces are closer to Berlin and Tokyo.

This year casualty lists will be increasing.

This year the going will be tougher and the job ahead harder.

Mrs. Maude Fultz has returned to her home in Villa Grove after a brief visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jas. Brown.

Vaughn Bacon

Vaughn C. Bacon who made his home in Mt. Prospect for the past 14 years, passed away last Thursday at St. Francis Hospital, Evanston, after a short illness.

Mr. Bacon was connected with the Commonwealth Edison Co. for over 21 years and was deeply respected by his associates. His quiet friendliness, ready humor, and sincerity endeared him to all who knew him.

He took an active part in the life of the community. He was the 1st president of the local P.T.A. and last month took part in the Founders' Day program of past presidents. He also served on the school board for a number of years. As a charter member of the South church, he worked continuously for its best interests.

Mr. Bacon served his country in World War I and was a past commander of the American Legion. For a number of years he was business manager of their famous drum and bugle corps and when a Drum and Bugle Corps was organized in Mt. Prospect, he assisted the Boy Scouts and Cubs as musical director of the Corps.

Funeral services were conducted at the South church on Saturday, Mar. 4 by the Rev. Robert Handy, and interment took place in South Butler, N. Y. the home of his earlier life.

Mrs. Anna Hagenbring

Mrs. Anna Hagenbring, nee Koderich, Arlington Heights passed away Thursday, March 2 at the age of 82 years and 5 months.

She was born October 1, 1861 in Germany and December 1, 1887 was united in marriage to Lorenz A. Hagenbring. A year after their marriage this couple came to the United States, making their home in Chicago. In 1905 they took up a homestead in Baldwin County, Alabama, residing there for 22 years. They came to live with their son, Henry of Arlington Heights in 1927. Her husband preceded her in death April 2nd, 1928 at the age of 70 years.

She leaves to mourn, a son, Henry L. Hagenbring of Arlington Heights, a daughter, Mrs. A. F. Morley of Robertsdale, Alabama, a brother, Otto Koderich of Chicago, seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Mar. 6th at Lauterburg & Oehler's chapel with Rev. Kamphenkel officiating. Interment was in Ridgewood cemetery.

George Rutkofske

George Rutkofske was born May 18, 1878 in Volo, Russia and came to America when a young man. He was married to Miss Jennie Herman on July 23, 1910 at Waukegan, Ill., and has lived in the Wheeling vicinity since then. Although in failing health for several years he was able to be about until a week before his death which came Wednesday, March 1st at the age of 65 years.

He leaves to mourn, his wife, Jennie, William, Private Joseph, Edward and Elizabeth Rutkofske, Lawrence Kranz, Margaret Windquest and Roy Herman. Funeral services were held on Saturday and burial took place at Ridgewood cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express to our kind neighbors and thoughtful friends our heartfelt thanks for their many expressions of sympathy. The beautiful floral offerings were especially appreciated.

Arthur Schoepke
and Carol Lynn.

CARD OF THANKS

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 5.
The Golden Text was, "God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them" (Genesis 1: 27).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture. . . The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God" (Ps. 100: 3; Rom. 8: 16).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Scriptures inform us that man is made in the image and likeness of God. Matter is not that likeness. The likeness of Spirit cannot be so unlike Spirit. Man is spiritual and perfect; and because he is spiritual and perfect, he must be so understood in Christian Science. . . Man and woman as coexistent and eternal with God forever reflect, in glorified quality, the infinite Father-Mother God" (pp. 475, 516).

Dr. E. H. Savage

Dr. Edmund H. Savage, who died suddenly at the Rockford Masonic Temple Wednesday, March 1, was buried in Palatine Saturday afternoon with Masonic funeral services. Rev. William F. Kamphenkel of Arlington Heights officiated.

Dr. Savage was born in Wheaton, Illinois July 5, 1896. He spent his childhood days in Wheaton where he also attended school. Later, he furthered his education in field of dentistry at the University of Illinois from which he received his degree as doctor of dental surgery.

In 1922 he came to Arlington Heights and had practiced dentistry there since that time.

In 1926 Dr. Savage was married to Miss Madge Gibbs of Palatine, with whose father, the late Dr. R. M. Gibbs, he became a partner. Dr. Savage belonged to the Masons and served as master of the Wheaton Lodge No. 269 A. F. & A. M. He was also a member of the Shrine.

He enjoyed the out-of-doors and just last year his Victory garden was the envy of many. Dr. Savage was exceptionally successful in his profession and had many warm friends.

Dr. Savage is survived by his beloved wife, Madge, two sons, Edmund Henry Jr. and Arthur; three sisters, Mrs. Gertrude Grange, Elizabeth Savage and Virginia Savage; two brothers, George and Herbert Savage.

No bugles when the nurse steps in

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Pharmacy

There is no fanfare about the approach of a trained nurse. She moves on rubber heels, quietly, surely, assuringly. Her very presence is healing because her disciplined knowledge makes her confident, cheerful, hopeful.
She has been trained to execute orders without flinching, yet with sympathy and complete understanding of the patient's ordeal. She can make illness tolerable, convalescence a joy.

Walter Scott wrote of nurses: "Who pain and anguish wring the brow a ministering angel thou."

Her professional eye overlooks nothing that can add to comfort and release from pain. She is scientifically trained and yet profoundly human. Honor the nurse's skill. It is unique among professions.

Go To Church During Lent

Lenten Sermonette

MAKING WORSHIP "WORTHWHILE"

Lent is a time when we are specially conscious of our opportunities to worship God, both privately and publicly. "Worship" is an Anglo-Saxon word meaning "worship." Worship is the offering up of the best that we have to the highest that we know; worship is the celebration of life before God who is most worthy to receive life's praise and adoration. And since God is a Spirit, we "must worship him in spirit and in truth."

Our churches, in their services of music, prayer, and instruction, are trying in every way to prompt and guide the worshipper into an experience of worship which will be realized "in spirit and truth."

But one cannot truly worship if he attends church and says, "Well, here I am; now what have you to offer?" We must realize that we are in the worship service, not to get, but to give. We must all join, minister and congregation, in a separate act of rededication and praise. Let us do the worshiper's share by bringing reverence, praise, and adoration into the service of our Church.

REV. HERMAN G. MCCOY,
Pastor, Presbyterian Church.

COMPUTING THE QUANTITY of Zonolite needed and telephoning the Lumber Dealer for same-day delivery were the first steps in this insulating job. Time: 5 minutes!

CHANGING INTO WORK CLOTHES wasn't really necessary, because Zonolite was so "clean" to handle. Time: 3 minutes!

MARY SMOOTHED-OFF the Zonolite with a common bag as fast as John emptied each featherlight bag between the attic joists. Time: 3 hours.

Thus—with one short afternoon's work by the owners—another home acquires a Zonolite Insulated attic, and is ready to reduce each winter's fuel bill by 20% to 30%. Besides, think of the added cost-free summer comfort: cooler days, refreshing nights.

Ask your Lumber Dealer about Zonolite Insulation... today! Then make a date for a family Insulating Party... for next Saturday! Enjoy the hot weather benefits of Zonolite in the months ahead; even before you enjoy its money-saving results this winter.

I SWAPPED an idle appliance for War Stamps

...and ended "Gloomy Saturday" for a war worker

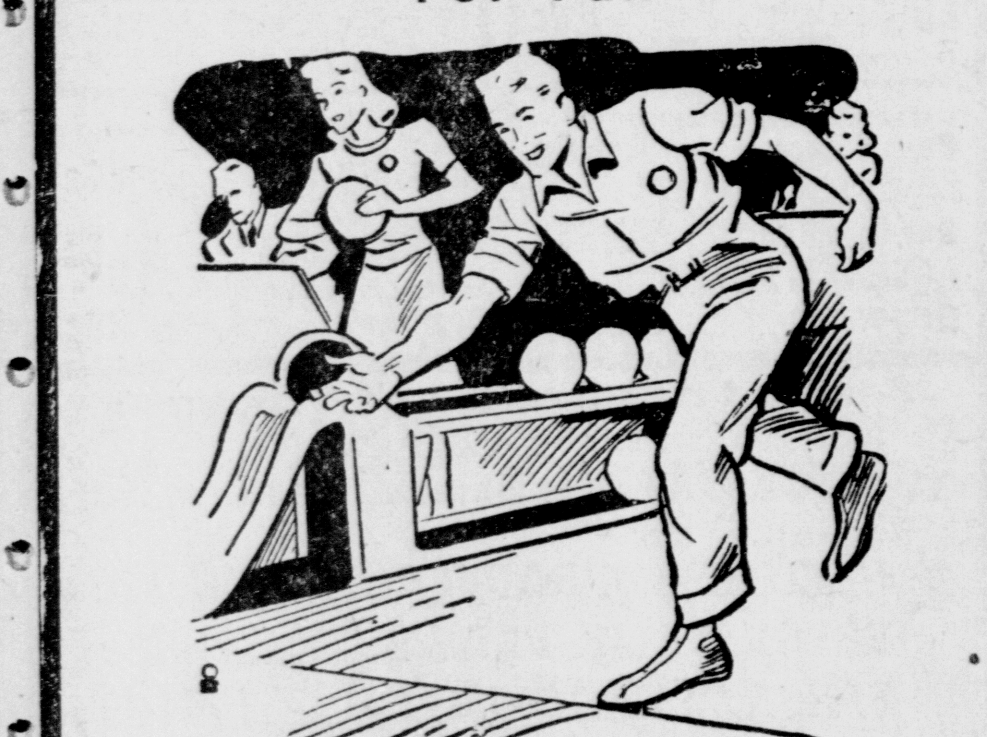

1. Mrs. Jones does double duty as a war plant worker and a housewife. And on Saturday afternoon she does her laundry. For a long time, she couldn't buy a washing machine for love or money. Washing wore her to a frazzle. It was "Gloomy Saturday" every week for her.

2. On the other hand, I had an old electric washer I no longer used. You see, my sons are in the service, and there's just my husband John and I now—so I send my laundry out. After the war, I am going to get a brand new machine. So there was no sense in cluttering the house with the old one.

3. One day, I saw a sign in my electric dealer's window—"swap idle appliances for war stamps." An idea! I traded him my washer, an old iron, and an electric heater for oodles of stamps. I exchanged the stamps for bonds, which will some day help me buy a post-war washer.

4. So-o-o, the dealer had a washer for Mrs. Jones. He fixed it up, then phoned her the good news. She almost shouted with joy. Now on Saturdays, she's happy as a lark. You, too, can help make a war worker happy by swapping your idle appliances for War Stamps.

Arlington local news

Dick Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Hoffman of 116 South Duntan Avenue was twelve years old Wednesday, March 1, and his birthday party, held on Thursday, March 2 was the occasion of real thanksgiving among his family and the ten friends who gathered to help him celebrate. His birthday marked one of the blocks on his way to recovery from St. Vitus Dance, and Dick is able to go to school now for part of each day.

The faculty of St. Peter's Lutheran School and their wives enjoyed one of their monthly get-togethers at the Lutheran Annex Sunday evening. Games were played and refreshments served. Hosts and hostesses for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Busse and Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Pruess.

Mr. Grant Henderson of Pasadena, California, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. George Hieber.

Rev. and Mrs. Milo Vondracek were guests at a dinner party Friday evening given in the South Chicago home of Dr. and Mrs. Earl O. Latimer in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mahle.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Malcolm have gone to Tulsa, Oklahoma for a week's visit. While there they will join in the celebration of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Malcolm's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Burchfield.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Crittendon entertained a group of Oak Park friends at supper Sunday night. Rev. and Mrs. Milo Vondracek were also guests.

Mrs. Jack Courtney, the former Miss Betty Jo Fulkerson was the recipient of many beautiful gifts at a miscellaneous bridal shower given for her Saturday evening, February 26 at the home of Mrs. Arthur McElhose. Her hostesses were Mrs. John Chidley and Mrs. Wilbert Behrens. Fifteen friends took part in the shower and the evening was spent playing games. The refreshments featured a decorated cake surrounded by paper doily umbrellas.

Miss Marie Liebrock, 722 North Pine street has joined the WAVES and is leaving April 5 for training. Miss Liebrock is a graduate of Immaculate school in Chicago and is at the present time employed by the Chicago Sun.

Mrs. Edward Leicht had open house Wednesday in honor of her husband's birthday.

Mrs. Herman Kehe returned home Monday afternoon after an operation and radium treatment at the St. Francis hospital in Evanston. Her health will require rest and quiet.

Mrs. John S. Monroe left Wednesday evening for Minneapolis, where he has a new position with General Mills in their market analysis department. Mr. Monroe was formerly connected with the A. C. Nielson Company of Chicago. The Monroes are well-known and much liked in Arlington Heights and many friends will be sorry to see them leave. Mrs. Monroe and the children plan to remain here for a time.

Mrs. Wilbur Kastning and daughter and Mrs. Schulenburg and son spent Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Owen Baxter in Lake Bluff.

Quite a number of the members of St. John's Evangelical church went to Itasca Sunday evening to share with the Evangelical church congregation a talk by Dr. Holland of the WLS Prairie Farmer. Dr. Holland spoke on "What the Church Means to Me" and his audience considered what he had to say both inspiring and illuminating.

Mr. John L. Grose and Mr. R. E. Clabaugh will go to the South Church, Mt. Prospect tomorrow where they will take part in a panel discussion on Guidance at the Council of Northwest Suburbs. Mr. Clabaugh's topic will be recreation and Mr. Grose will discuss employment of youth.

Miss Nelda Studtmann entertained her bridge club Friday evening. Mrs. Alvin Kahling won high score.

Major Alex B. Magnus of Central road has been at home on leave. The psychiatrist, a resident of this community for 6 years, who became Arlington Heights' first major when he enlisted in the army will be sent to a new post from Chicago.

SKOKIE

The will of Elizabeth Stielow, who died in Skokie, Dec. 11, leaves an estate estimated by Probate Clerk Frank Lyman at $14,000 to her three sisters equally: Mae, Louise and Elsie Stielow, all of Skokie. The heirs were also named executrices of the will.

Mrs. George Fowler's review of Martin Plavin's "Journey in the Dark" was heard Tuesday afternoon by a large and appreciative audience at the Methodist Meeting House. Mrs. Fowler, who is the wife of the District Superintendent of the Methodist church, gave brief reviews of two other books: "Germany Will Try It Again," by Sigrid Schultz and "The Weeping Wood," by Vicki Baum.

"Journey in the Dark," Harper prize novel for 1943-44 is the story of a child, Sam, who is born in poverty and resolves (when he realizes the handicap that poverty and nonentity of name imposes) to attain power through riches. He is successful financially, but comes to believe that this way will tear down all the fences of the affluent whom he once defied. He finds wealth but is able finally to disregard its strength and (in a complete revision of his sense of values) decides that human relationships are what really light our "Journey in the Dark."

Mrs. Fowler has the great talent of making her hearers feel that they are living with the characters of the books she speaks of—living the stories of their lives. She knows how to select the details that are enlightening, the remarks that set the style of the book. She can identify herself with each person she talks about and for.

The women who heard her felt amply repaid for braving the March wind.

Mrs. Fred Utterbach sang at the beginning of the program, "Still as the Night" and "Danny Boy."

Garden club

The regular monthly meeting of the Arlington Heights Garden Club, usually held on the second Wednesday of each month at the North School, has been postponed until Wednesday, March 22. The annual election of officers will be held and the program committee has secured several interesting speakers for the evening. Watch the next issue of the Herald for further details.

Attends meeting

Rev. William F. Kamphenkel attended Monday evening a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Illinois State Youth Cabinet at the Central Y.M.C.A. in Chicago. Rev. Kamphenkel is chairman of this committee and led the members of it in planning the next half year's work and in discussion details for a statewide conference to be held in June. Miss Virginia Deering Mt. Prospect, delegate at large from the Arlington Heights district, also was present at the meeting.

American Legion auxiliary notes

Please take notice that the sale of home baked food and aprons for all occasions takes place on Saturday of this week at 22 E. Northwest highway, beginning at 9:30 a.m. The committee in charge are Fannie May, Iva Jones and Grace Daggett.

At the American Legion Auxiliary meeting Tuesday evening contributions to the Red Cross mobile unit for service overseas and several other worthy causes were voted.

Mrs. Camille Peroutka then introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Edwin W. Baumann, who talked on community service.

Dr. Baumann, local dentist, told of the work being done by the Arlington Heights Public Health committee and especially stressed the value of the services of our community nurse. He regretted that she was overworked and expressed the hope that the rapidly growing community would soon provide an assistant.

After adjournment the hostesses, Millie Russel and Thelma Carroll served refreshments.

Pot-luck supper

On Friday, March 10 at 6:30 a pot luck supper will initiate a 4-F (faith, food, fun and fellowship) evening at St. John's Evangelical church. The various organizations will contribute special features to the program.

All members, families and friends are cordially invited to attend.

BUNDLE DAYS

Start now to save your children's outgrown clothing for them to take to school on March 30 and 31. It will go partly to war-needy youngsters and partly to our own country's children. Watch the Herald for further information.

Mrs. Robert R. Blackburn entertained her bridge club Thursday evening.

Douglas doings

Several thousand employees of Douglas Aircraft's Chicago plant are filling ballot boxes this week—not with election votes, but with ballots which will eventually decide the name of the C-54 Sky-master which was "purchased" through their efforts in the recent war bond drive. In an over-the-top national drive, over $500,000 was raised in cash sales and additional payroll deductions. The plane will be turned over to the Army during a special ceremony held in the plant early this month.

Of special interest to the thousands of aircraft workers steadily turning out C-54 Sky-masters in Douglas Aircraft's Chicago plant was the recent news that the first giant plane which rolled off the line last summer played a vital part in landing of paratroopers behind Jap lines in the New Guinea campaign. This was revealed for the first time this week by the Air Transport Command.

Along with other Sky-masters, the huge plane helped to deliver 10,000 paratroopers to a New Guinea base in time for the famous Markham Valley operation, one of the most successful surprise offensives in the New Guinea campaign.

With the equipment located half a world away on a freight train in Cheyenne, Wyo., the four-engined C-54s spanned the Pacific to the New Guinea base in exactly three days after leaving the West Coast.

Tying in with the national Red Cross campaign, Douglas Aircraft's Chicago plant is holding its own special drive March 8, 9 and 10.

Ceosa Club were guests of Miss Marion Peterson March 2. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Walter Schilling.

Mrs. G. H. Bascom, 738 N. Belmont Ave., was hostess Wednesday. Pinochle and a social program were enjoyed.

Mrs. O. G. Bolte gave a dessert luncheon Tuesday noon for the benefit of V. F. W. auxiliary. A social program was the entertainment.

Orville Bolte, who has been in Oklahoma during his training as a marine, writes home that he is being transferred to North Carolina to the ordnance branch.

"THIS HAPPENS EVERY SATURDAY NIGHT!"

Many persons think the condition of their teeth is a matter of chance. Whether their teeth are sound and healthy or poor and decayed, they imagine there is little they can do about it.

Dentists have agreed that proper nourishment is most important for the growth of the teeth during the first 14 or 15 years of life. Diet also is important throughout the entire life for the health of the soft tissues and underlying structures.

Even from childhood, teeth are too frequently neglected. So-called "baby teeth" are often taken lightly, since parents think they will come out soon anyway. Likewise, the first permanent teeth are often allowed to become decayed, since they are oftentimes confused with "baby teeth." Unhealthy teeth and gums create a doorway for disease germs of all types to enter the body, as well as ruin the teeth.

Everyone should make visiting his dentist a habit, to be started by parents taking children soon after the age of two. This regularity of inspection enables the dentist to detect and repair decay before it gets so far along that teeth frequently must be removed, or that the resulting infection may cause other illnesses.

The Dental Hygiene Institute of Chicago recommends the following rules to help maintain good teeth, and to promote general good health.

1. Brush your teeth at least twice a day.
2. See your dentist as often as he advises, usually twice a year.
3. Don't crack hard objects with your teeth.
4. Eat a well-balanced, nourishing diet.

That first robin

With all this snow and everything that we didn't think before now of calling George Klehm to find out if he saw the first Arlington Robin this year or if he knew who did. He knew. It was Art McElhose. Mr. McElhose saw his robin (he says it was one of the bright breasted Canadian kind) almost two months ago. So, no matter what you think, spring really started the first week in January this year. Unless you take it that Canadian Robins are coming south now.

But we saw a nuthatch in our apple tree this morning driving through the snow, on the branches with his sharp beak, looking like a quiet cousin of the screaming bluejay.

And Mr. McElhose has seen bronze grackles (blackbirds to us), meadowlarks, and red-wing blackbirds here blithely ignoring the thermometer. And they have been no less than five cardinals at the Klehms.

Expect to hear some more from us about birds, because we are interested and are going to go to see Mr. Klehm and have a talk about them the first day that the weatherman thinks it's spring, too.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mueller recently received word of the arrival of a Leap Year granddaughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mueller of Cincinnati, Ohio, and named for her paternal grandmother, Martha Weinhardt Mueller.

Just Around the Corner

The SPARs have taken in one of our girls from just around the corner. If you ask me they did real well by themselves.

She's conscientious, talented, Second Class Seaman Margaret Wichmann from 1404 North State Road, Arlington Heights. She went to the Lutheran school and to high school here, to the Misses academy of art in Chicago, did dress designing both in Chicago and Los Angeles where she knew Greta Garbo and Hedy Lamarr.

I don't know Margaret. She'll probably be surprised when she reads this. She's at the U. S. Coast Guard Training Station in Palm Beach, Florida. But I know some things about her from talking with her mother, Mrs. William Wichmann, and being permitted to read some of the daughter's letters.

I know she's done some rather wonderful work in sculpturing, some better than average painting; that she likes photography, has a flare for mechanics; that she has an infectious smile and a way of making people look up and like her when she comes into a room.

I know she's busy:

"I've got my Jersey dress on and lipstick — the first time all week (for all of us) the reason being we're not allowed to get lipstick on the drinking mugs at mess, so we just don't wear any! And we're up and down so many times a day there's no time in the first place. What a life! They alternate 1 day of classes and one day of duty. This should be duty day for Company 141, but our platoon may get out of it. On the other hand, we may have galley duty (kitchen) this p. m.

"We already had to scrub all the mess tables in two big mess halls — right after we had our shots in the arm — and I had my hands in so much strong soapy water that they're still peeling and feel like sand paper! It was 3 hours scrubbing in the morning and 3 hours in the afternoon.

But she's not complaining.

"Oh mom, they don't work too hard. Stop fretting! My hands weren't bad after that scrubbing at all — just flaking off in the palms. And we haven't done any scrubbing since then. After all, the station has to be kept clean, and that's what boot training is for — make you learn how to do any and everything. But it doesn't hurt anyone, because we always go in a platoon so there's 25 doing the job, and you get through very quickly."

And she wants her mom to know they eat well:

"We have to report back at 1/2 to 5 for mess which reminds me — we had turkey and dressing and peas and carrots, and mashed potatoes and beets and apple salad and mince pie and ice cream — golly. On such hearty fare Margaret has gained four pounds.

And I know, from descriptions of afternoons at the Sun and Surf Club, and movie nights and weekly dances that Margaret has fun, that life isn't all work and no play.

She's learned to use nautical terms: a wall is a bulkhead; stairs are called ladders; beds, bunks; rooms, quarters; clothes, gear; eating, mess; and hospital, sick bay. And I guess when Margaret comes home and makes the beds for Mrs. Wichmann, it will be an education to watch her:

"We had linen exchange today and bed airing. Turn in the under sheet, put top on bottom and — well it's a helluva job, with arithmetic and everything! 45 degree angles at all the corners, 8 inches of bottom sheet showing, 6 inches of top sheet. Fold the blanket first half, then thirds, then thirds again."

Mrs. Wichmann has gained

Theta Chi meets

Mrs. Marie Cornelius, Home Bureau Advisor for Cook county gave a talk on Nutrition at the annual dinner of the Theta Chi sorority held in the recreation room of the Edwin Baumann home on Monday evening.

This dinner usually has had a foreign theme, but Monday's affair was an American one at which both the speaker and the dinner itself stressed low point, no point meals. The seven basic foods were served in a beautifully balanced 63 cent meal featuring chicken a la king.

Mrs. H. E. Johnson and Mrs. W. G. Franke were assistant hostesses.

much interesting information from her daughter's answer to a questionnaire:

Q. How much free time do you get on weekdays?

A. Not much, always different, sometimes a half hour between classes.

Q. How much duty do you have on Sundays?

A. No duty so far. Next week I'll know! Duty starts tomorrow in the galley.

Q. When do you do your laundry and where?

A. In the bathroom basin, every night. There is a laundry but we never have time to go.

Q. Do you wash and iron all your wearing apparel?

A. Yes, we have an ironing board in the closet; and three girls have irons.

Q. How about your suits — do they clean them?

A. Yes, there a cleaner and shoe fixer.

Q. Do you have a chance to do mending and such?

A. Oh yes, all evening long, and any time between.

Q. Aren't there any extra blankets in a closet or so?

A. No, but we can go to the linen locker on the quarter deck and ask for a spare. Don't need one though in the upper stratosphere.

Q. Can you smoke just at certain hours?

A. Only in our quarters, no other place.

Q. All superiors are males?

A. Mostly females. The captain is a man; there are about two dozen sailors around.

Q. Two hot meals a day besides breakfast?

A. Yes, no lunches, no sandwiches, ever.

Q. How are your beds — hard or comfy?

A. In this life you get used to everything.

Yes, Margaret's getting used to a lot of things, growing in her new environment, but it's my guess that the environment isn't getting the worst of the deal.

And, Mrs. Wichmann, just so you'll know I'm not forgetting, I'll bring back those cherished letters right away. I hope I haven't published anything you wouldn't want me to. Just wanted to let some of the rest of the people here in Arlington Heights know about what someone who used to be just around the corner is doing, and that she's happy enough and still putting more in the old basket than she takes out.

ME women to hear world peace expert

Dr. Alexander Stewart, associate secretary of the commission on World Peace of the Methodist church will speak to the Methodist women's society in the church parlors at 8 p. m. on Tuesday, March 14. He will talk on "Peace Planning." Other members of the World Peace organization include Dr. Ralph Sockman, the nationally known radio speaker of the Christ Methodist church of New York, Dr. Ernest Fremont Tittle and Bishop G. Bromiy Oxnam.

Since Dr. Stewart has come to the commission there has been a growing demand for his services as a speaker for district conferences, churches, service clubs, commission forums and men's, women's and young people's groups.

As a lieutenant of infantry in the first world war and later as a traveler in Europe, Asia and the Near East and as a student of history and current events, Dr. Stewart has had a varied background and earned a broad understanding of world's problems.

He is possessed with a sincerity of purpose and the ability to present his facts in a forceful and interesting way.

'Bundles' unit makes layettes for service wives

For service men's wives who need them, Bundles for America is sponsoring the making of layettes. The name of the person who makes each layette will be included in the box in which it is sent. The baby clothes in each package will be: two dresses, two saks, bonnet and bootie sets, two Gertrudes, one heavy jacket and bonnet, two kimono. These things may be made either by hand or on the machine.

There will be all day cutting and sewing meetings on Wednesdays from 9:30 to 4:00 at the field house with the exception of the Wednesdays on which the Women's Club meets. On those days Bundles for America will close at 12 noon.

If you can help, think what satisfaction you will gain from completing a layette—something that is so badly and so widely needed. If you want further information, call Mrs. Vernon Curtis at Arlington 544-J.

Discusses French cathedral art at Woman's club

At the last meeting of the Arlington Women's club Mr. Frank Holland spoke on "Cathedrals of Northern France." He also showed pictures taken there in 1939 which gave his audience an idea of the architecture of the cathedrals and the beauty of the windows.

Mr. Holland is art editor of the Chicago Sun and a teacher at New Trier high school. Mrs. J. A. Cousins presided in place of Mrs. Fayette Briggs, who is serving on the Federal jury.

At the next meeting on Wednesday, March 15, Mrs. Carlton will tell about the great wartime program of aid to travelers.

She has been a volunteer in the railroad program for about two years, and she will be able to give a clear and timely picture of the stream of travelers passing thru the terminals daily.

Mrs. Carlton is a resident of Hyde Park, and before the war was engaged in volunteer work at the University of Chicago settlement.

Presbyterian Aid Society met last Thursday for its annual session. Discussion of plans and management gave zest to the regular routine. They are arranging for a congregational meeting to be held soon. Officers elected for the ensuing year are: Mrs. E. A. Elfeld, president; Mrs. H. G. Peter, 1st vice president; Mrs. Edm. Harth, secretary; Mrs. Robt. Palmer, treasurer; Directors, Mrs. G. Adam, Mrs. S. E. Pate, Mrs. J. F. Schulenburg, Mrs. A. J. Filkins, Mrs. C. E. Jackson.

Mrs. Harold Rath and Mrs. Vance Folkman were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Canning, sister of Mrs. Rath, in Austin. Mr. Canning is a lieutenant at the Hudson avenue police station.

Mens' forum to hear U. Chicago dean Monday

Arlington Heights Men's Forum will have as its speaker Dr. William E. Scott, assistant dean of students of the University of Chicago, Monday, March 13, at 7:45 at the Methodist Meeting House. He will talk on "Chicago's New Two Year Plan."

From its start the University of Chicago has been a pioneer in education. It has led many of the most significant advances in collegiate education in the United States. It is still leading, and its so called "New Plan" for the Bachelor's Degree has had widespread discussion and substantial acceptance.

Dean Scott is taking an active part in the successful development of the plan.

Every resident of Arlington Heights should be interested in Chicago's great university and in its continued pioneer work in education. This talk and the question period which will follow will offer a splendid opportunity to become better acquainted with the application and success of the plan toward which American educators are turning their attention.

Members of the school board, school heads and faculties are especially invited to attend this meeting.

The Forum will meet at 7:45 instead of the regular 8 o'clock hour because it will be necessary for Dr. Scott to leave the village on the 9:20 train.

Arlington Wave becomes bride of navy machinist

Miss Mary Constance Maloney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Maloney of 604 S. Dunton street, Arlington Heights, was married Monday morning at ten o'clock in Washington, D. C. to Mr. Richard Flynn, a machinist in the United States navy.

The bride joined the WAVES last May and it was in the communication department where she is employed that she met Mr. Flynn.

Mrs. Flynn is a graduate of the Arlington Heights high school and has many friends here who wish her happiness in her marriage.

LIFE WITH MOTHER

Dear Eleanor,
Now that I am able to take a somewhat objective view of the day Bob left for Navy duty, I can smile . . . a little.
That day the boys came down to breakfast, took their places at the table, greeted their father and me just as if it were any other morning in our lives.
Weeks before, Bob had made me promise that when the time came for him to leave, he wanted us to say our 'goodbyes' at home. He said he had seen too many boys in the last year leave for service from the Union depot, and the sight of them and their sad parents wasn't a pleasant one! Now that he was to be situated only 26 miles away, there certainly was no need in my accompanying him to Evanston, and he still preferred to have me remain at home. Truthfully, I wanted it that way myself. . . it would help to make it seem like other mornings when he and Jack merely left for school together.
After breakfast, Jack gathered up his books, and went to the door. As if it were an afterthought, he turned and said, "So long, Bob, I'll be seeing you!" With that Bob spoke up, "Guess I'd better get some gas in the Buick . . . be back in a jiffy!" It was then that Bob went up stairs. I knew he was going for his bag, but I left the table, and, as I usually do, took my cup of coffee and the newspaper and seated myself in Mother's old rocker. When Bob came down he asked, "What's the head line, Mother?" I read it to him. Yes, it was like any other morning, I told myself, yet I wondered at our casualness.

George and Edward stood around, and I noticed Bob ruffled up Ed's hair a little, and gave George an affectionate punch with his doubled-up fist. The three of them giggled together, and Bob said to Edward, "Moony, if you don't behave the FBI will get you!" You're a Jap spy, that's what you are! This kind of banter had been going on for days between them, and it had always been good for a laugh or two. It was again . . . even that morning!
Suddenly, Bob was back with the car. "Ready, son?" "All ready, Dad." We went to the door together. I received the usual short kiss (with what I thought was an extra squeeze) from my son. "Let us hear from you as soon as possible, dear," I remember saying cheerfully. "Sure will," he replied, and the next second they were in the car with Bob at the wheel. I looked after them as long as I could see the car, thinking wonderingly, "so this is what it is like when they leave home for the first time!"
I took up the paper again, but somehow, I couldn't find much that was interesting, so I put it back on the table. Anyway, it was time to get George off to school, and Edward was clamoring to be helped into his snow suit. I hugged him and sent him out to play. Then I decided what I needed was a little more action. I hurried with the dishes, finished, and went immediately to bed making.

I still believe it COULD have been like any other day for me, if I hadn't gone upstairs to Bob and Jack's room. I found it in its customary untidiness, night clothes thrown carelessly on the beds, socks and handkerchiefs on the chair, but more prominently than any of these, lay a large pile of school books and note papers in a heap on the floor. How utterly finished and done with they appeared!

I sat down on his bed to glance through the note books, and came across the last notation he had made on the student's day meeting at school the very day before. "Tender resignation" was number seven on his list of topics to present to the meeting. There were two other words on the page that attracted my eye . . . "justice and fairness." I tried to imagine what they had referred to . . . I could hold out no longer . . . I wept.

I was furious at myself. I tried to think of my great sorrow in having Bob at Northwestern with the possibility of seeing him frequently. I thought of other mothers and the sons they have not seen since they entered service. I thought of those sons who will never come back . . . so much I have to be thankful for . . . and yet . . .

I went looking back over the past eighteen years, thinking as thousands of other parents have, and always will, "it seems like yesterday that I held him in my arms!" A flash went through my mind of the day I took him out in the very new English cab for his first airing. Mother had helped me down the stairs with the baby and carriage. I could hardly wait to join the other young mothers in the vicinity for a walk in the park and lake. I remembered that Mother went back into the building and stood at the living-room window to wave us off, but I was so concerned as to whether or not the baby was comfortable, I couldn't start. I went a few steps, stopped, and arranged the pillow and covers, then went on a space, and stopped again to re-arrange these things, no doubt putting them back in the very same way. Mother finally called out, "If you don't go soon, it will be time to bring him in!" Those were the days when the pediatricians insisted on keeping a rigid schedule and we didn't DARE feed a baby or put him to bed or take him up ONE minute before the clock indicated. Ah, me! Well, there's no use taking up all your time telling you the other thoughts that persisted in my mind, but there were many! None of them made me feel like smiling, unless it was through tears.

I can imagine how grateful I was to have Hazel come in to interrupt my reverie. She stood at the bottom of the stairs with a beautiful bouquet of Spring flowers in her hand. She remained until almost noon. Later on in the afternoon, Dorothy came with a delicious coffee-cake. We made coffee, Hazel returned, and the three of us sat down to talk. What precious people . . . our friends!

Can you imagine my delight when the phone rang at seven that evening, and it was Bob? He told us he was already in uniform. We were surprised at that, because he had been ordered to take along enough civilian clothing to last thirty days. As Jack put it, "that's swell, now I'll inherit all his clothes, new as well as old!"

You may be sure, I acted true to form, and plied Bob with all sorts of foolish questions during the telephone conversation, such as "Have you saluted yet?" He laughed and answered, "Darn fer tootin' . . . that's about all I've done this afternoon!"

His room mate is from down state, and they're situated in one of the fraternity houses near the lake. Of course, I forgot to ask him which one, and worse, I didn't find out the address! But, he's actually coming home Saturday at noon and will not have to report back until seven o'clock Sunday. The first classes begin next Monday. Thus, he is now having time to get his bearings, and I hope, a little rest. He needs a rest for there was so much 'doing' the last days at home. His birthday, farewell parties, basketball games, etc. We saw him play in his last game. There was an announcement made on the floor that he was playing on the team for the last time before going into service, and his coach very thoughtfully made him honorary captain for the game.

There are many things I could write to you at this time, but this letter is much too long as it is, so I'll reserve them for my next. I'm particularly anxious to tell you about the day at the Cordon Club, and my meeting with that charming lady, Herma Clark, the author of the popular column in the Tribune called, "When Chicago Was Young."

I shall give your last letter to Bob to read over the weekend. I'm sure he will find your anecdotes on Senator J. Hamilton Lewis as interesting as did the rest of us.

Love to everyone at your house, Mary.

Local fighter pilots report in history of Eagle squadron

Morris Fessler war prisoner in Germany

Morris Fessler, formerly of Arlington Heights, is one of two local men who served in the Eagle squadron. His parents moved to California several years ago, but have kept in touch with Arlington through the Herald.

Morris served in the RAF for only about two months when he was shot down and captured. He is now in a prison camp in Germany.

The following stories tell of Fessler's last flight and other incidents of his life in the RAF.

"Fessler got hit on a low-level attack and had to crash land. The other boys saw him climb out of his plane and set fire to it before the Huns could get to him. The Jerries were shooting at him, trying to make him leave his plane, but he didn't leave until it was blazing and ruined, until it could be of no use whatever to the Germans."

Further on, in explaining about accidents while diving a plane, discussion turned to Fessler.

"This Fessler was a darn good flier, and one day when he was in combat at twenty thousand feet he blacked out on a high speed turn. He was plenty blacked out, completely unconscious, as he started down. And he stayed unconscious for most of the way down, but fortunately he came up in time to see the ground coming up toward him."

"He tried to pull out, but at first he couldn't. He pulled and pulled, and finally managed to pull out just in time; actually when he leveled off he just cleared the tree tops. He was coming down so fast he made a 'nine g pullout' (The speed of his body coming down increased the normal weight of his body nine times the ordinary pull of gravity.)

"It was such a terrific pullout that his seat split from top to bottom. That seat was made of bakelite, and splitting bakelite isn't easy; that'll give you some idea of the force at the end of his dive."

Plenty of Damage

Another story of one of Fessler's missions includes the following report by him, regarding a mission of October 20, 1941.

"I flew over a Hun landing-ground and saw between 15 and 20 ME 109's on the ground. They were dispersed around the southern edge of the field, though there was one on the northern edge. I returned, and flying at 300 feet, fired with cannon and machine guns in a 1 1/2 second burst from 350 yards to point blank at two ME 109's dispersed close together at the south end of the field.

"I blew big holes in the first one

Paddock Publications are this week offering their readers a few accounts of action of the famed Eagle squadron, as reported by two local men, Capt. Gene Potter and Lieutenant Morris Fessler, both formerly of Arlington Heights.

The Eagle squadron was that first group of American fliers to "get in the scrap" fighting as a unit within the RAF. The original squadron, 71, was enlarged to include two others.

Most of the information has been gathered from the book, "War Eagles," written by Col. James Saxon Childers of the army Air forces. It was published in 1943 by D. Appleton-Century Company, New York. "As far as aviation people are concerned, this is THE book of the year," writes one enthusiast.

and saw many pieces fall off the tail, wings and fuselage. The port wheel collapsed and the plane fell over. The starboard wheel then collapsed and the whole aircraft fell to the ground filled with holes.

"I then crossed the field to the north and fired a 1 1/2 second burst with cannon and machine-guns at another ME 109. I saw my fire enter the cockpit and the 109 burst into flames about 15 feet high.

"On crossing the field I was fired

Capt. Gene Potter now serving in England

Eugene Potter, formerly of Arlington Heights, is now a captain in the army air corps serving in England. Gene, now rounding out his third year in service, received that promotion just last December. He was a member of the famous Eagle squadron of the RAF, forerunners in this country's battle to rid the world of Hitler.

Potter attended and graduated from schools in Arlington Heights. He then took a job with a Chicago newspaper.

Gene had a flair for airplanes, earning his private license at Lewis Institute in Chicago in 1940. Twice Gene traveled to Windsor, Canada, to enlist in the Royal Canadian air force. His papers were finally approved and he was on his way to England and action.

Gene is now 23. He has gained 30 pounds in those three years, tipping the scales at 170. He was injured in a flying accident about a year ago, but is back in condition again, going stronger than ever. Result of this accident was 30 stitches in his left leg, and 15 stitches in his right leg.

Gene writes home weekly to his brother, Everett, still living in Arlington Heights.

Captain Potter's most recent letter from England discloses that "radio entertainment from America is really welcome over here. Just had a command performance, Bob Hope, Bing Crosby, etc., and it sure was great. It's good to hear some American humor, after listening to some of the corn they dish out over here. Dinah Shore just finished singing and it sounded swell."

Gene loves to receive mail. As he said in another of his recent letters, "It is an awful feeling to go to the post office and not find at least one letter. One gets down in the dumps fast when that happens several days in a row."

Why the Eagles

Why they had come—that seemed to be the first question in mind at by about 12 or 15 ack-ack guns without effect.

After leaving this landing field, I saw a goods train which I attacked. I gave a one second burst from 100 yards with cannon and machine-guns. The engine blew up and burst into flames.

"As I was flying behind Calais, I saw ten barges and attacked them with a two second burst from my machine-guns from 200 yards, but observed no results."

Fessler's record in the Eagle squadron included 2 destroyed, 1 probable, and 2 damaged.

"ARE WE RUSHING YOU TOO MUCH, JOE?"

With Uncle Sam

in seeking to discover the why and wherefore of the Eagle squadron.

Propagandists, in those dark days of '40 and '41, loved to tell the world of the courage, fore-group would be sent to protect a few flyers who would do practically all of the shooting. These men were experts in gunnery and many a novice German flyer's life is sacrificed to protect the main cog.

Other flyers in the group are to fire only when absolutely necessary. This explains, in some degree, why some German aces have such high records, in that they are afforded protection from accompanying planes and are doing most of the shooting.

A definite drawback to this system, however, is that when the formation is broken up the individual flyer invariably heads for home. They hadn't been taught to fight for themselves. There are many exceptions, of course, this holds true as a general rule.

R/T Saves Lives

One of the greatest uses of the radio phone is made when a plane has been so damaged that the pilot must bail out. If he is over water he switches on the D button, that puts his plane on a radio wireless emergency channel. The pilot calls "Mayday" and counts to ten, several listening posts in England taking a bearing on the falling plane.

Boats of the "Air Sea Rescue Service" then rush to the spot to pick up the pilot. Each flyer wears a Mae West and carries a collapsible dinghy upon which he sits while in the plane, after bailing out, and hitting the water, the flyer inflates the dinghy and climbs in. He can also release a solution coloring the water around him making sighting much easier.

The Eagles, as true American youths, were always riding and playing tricks on each other. One morning when Gene Potter turned over for another wink of sleep, another man took off in his plane on a mission. He ran into Jerry and shot one down. When he returned to base Potter was cursing his luck. "There I've been going up for weeks and no Jerries. As soon as this guy swipes my plane, and uses my parachute, he gets a Jerry."

Escort Missions

One of the missions hoped to be missed by all fighter pilots is that of escorting bombers. Except for one squadron which flies much higher than the others, all fighters cluster around the bombers. They are in formation and must stay that way. Only firing they can do is if an enemy plane comes within range. They cannot chase the bandits. As Potter puts it,

"And it didn't help matters when one of our men suddenly quacked as loud as he could. A 109 padded up behind him and was smack on his tail shooting at him with cannon and machine guns."

That night the boys wondered why they had left home.

40 Destroyed

Always appearing in the day's report of air battles is the communique reading, "40 planes destroyed, 23 probables, 10 damaged." "Destroyed" planes are those clearly seen to hit the ground or sea, break up in the air or go down in flames, are forced to descend and captured, or the pilot of a single-seater is seen to bail out.

"Probably destroyed" includes those believed to be destroyed, though not actually seen to hit the ground. "Damaged" covers cases where enemy aircraft is seen to be considerably damaged—undercarriage shot away, engines stopped, or part of the plane shot away.

A pilot's word is taken for any cams. Cameras fitted into the plane show any firing of guns and would serve to show up a pilot in more than one "story." Then, too, there are other pilots around to confirm the flyer's account. Checking crews are usually sent to investigate falling planes on home territory. Moreover, most flyers have found to underestimate their accuracy.

One example: Gene Potter shot an enemy plane until black smoke poured from it and one wing hit the sea. Gene turned around an instant to see if other planes were attacking, and lost sight of the downed plane. No one had actually seen it crash, thus giving Gene a probably destroyed, rather than a definite destroyed.

Hun a "Team Man"

German fighters were found to be team fighters by the Eagles. While they were in formation they would fight bravely and expertly handle their planes. The entire

California

Staff Sergeant Alfred E. Volpe, USMC, son of Mrs. Angelina C. Volpe, Rural Route 1, Arlington Heights, has been promoted to technical sergeant at Camp Elliott, San Diego, Calif., Training Center.

Technical Sergeant Volpe attended the University of Illinois extension high school. He received his master of arts degree from the University of Chicago in 1940.

Before entering the Marine Corps February 17, 1942, he was assistant to the president of the University of Dubuque, Iowa.

Technical Sergeant Volpe is now non-commissioned officer in charge and an instructor at the Japanese Language School.

Recovering from the flu at Camp Roberts, California, is Harvey Schaefer of Arlington Heights.

"Just a note to let you know I'm getting along ok. Came down with the flu and have been in the hospital for several days. Hope to be out tomorrow or they will put me in a new outfit. They give you six days to get well before transferring you."

His address is Pvt. H. O. Schaefer, Btry. A, Bldg. 6119, 54th FA Tng Bn., 12th Regt., Camp Roberts, Calif.

Now at Vallejo, California, is Frank Irons of Palatine.

"Sorry it has taken so long to give you my new address. You may correct your records and send the Enterprise here from now on. F. A. Irons, S2/c, P.C. Barracks North No. 5, Marine Island Navy Yard, Vallejo, Calif."

"Recently completed my course in fire control at Seattle and am now stationed here working on installations or new ordnance equipment and repair of the old. It is very interesting to say the least."

Pvt. Merle Gangler of Cloverdale is now receiving marine training at San Diego, California.

Texas

Corporal Donald Piegorsch of Bartlett is home on furlough from Camp Horne, Texas.

"Sure makes you mad to know the enemy can fly anywhere he pleases while all you can do is stay tight in formation, no chasing, and loaf along, shooting only when the bandits are within range."

Many persons have often wondered how fighter pilots look at death and shooting enemy flyers. At first the death of a pal will affect a flyer, but he soon gets over it, taking it only as a matter of course. They never think of a downed fellow pilot except to say, "Too bad, he was a good man." If they allowed themselves to think about death they would soon lose confidence and probably lose their own life in action.

Most flyers are impersonal in shooting the enemy. Most of them don't consider the opposing pilot. All enemy planes are simply clay pigeons, waiting to be shot down. Quite often after a hard battle, a pilot will be surprised to see man bail out, having forgotten there was a man in the plane.

A narrow one

One of Gene's most-remembered battles occurred when he and a buddy jumped four Focke-Wulfs. The other flyer shot down one FW, and another got on Potter's tail. Gene said that for a while he was a busy man fighting for his life and wondered why he had attacked the 190's, why he hadn't let them go on in peace; he said he never fought against a plane that could do so many tricks, and do them so fast, as the plane that was on his tail with lead pouring from it and streaming toward him.

Then Gene, banking his plane steeply with the wingtip just above the sea, pulled back hard on the stick, whirling the plane on its own wingtip. The 190 attempted to follow, but the pilot tightened too much, stalled and crashed into the sea, the plane exploding. The other two bandits streaked for home.

• Our wartime program of salvage and re-use covers the whole range of telephone materials.

Here, for example, the telephone man is weather-proofing an outside wire so it won't get wet when it rains and short-circuit somebody's telephone. With new wire unobtainable, this device has given continued service to many who otherwise wouldn't have it.

Naturally, it takes time and ingenuity to recondition old material, but our motto has been "make it do — and do well!"

By and large, telephone service has been good—still the best in the world—and we intend to stay right at that job of keeping it so.

Fighter pilot home after 81 missions

Lt. David Clark of Glen Michigan, formerly of Buffalo Creek Farm, Wheeling, is back in the States after his 81st mission in the Italian battle area.

Lt. Clark is a pilot of a fighter plane and was forced to bail out into the Mediterranean during his last mission, being rescued by a British warship. He holds the air medal with eight oak leaf clusters, which represent many thrilling experiences.

After spending a few days in Michigan, he accompanied his sister Mrs. L. R. Clark Jr., to Chicago, spending several days with his brother John. Some of his Wheeling friends called on him there.

He will spend the greater part of his 20 day leave with his mother and younger sister in Tucson, Ariz. Lt. Clark spent most of his youth at Buffalo Creek Farm and was a student at Highland Park high school before the family moved to Chicago.

England

From England comes word of Arnold Lichthardt of Elgin. "I enjoy reading the Herald. Keep it coming," writes Arnold.

He has been in the army two years, 18 months of which have been spent in England. His address is Pvt. Arnold E. Lichthardt, 36317588 APO 638, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

Pfc. Gordon Grandt of Wheeling is stationed somewhere in England, where he spent the Christmas holidays in a hospital.

Bank nets $8

Traveling bank at Arlington Heights last week netted Norman Beese $8, bringing the bank total to $2,048. This week Anthony Bodor is the driver of the bank.

Great Lakes

Among those graduating from an intensive course of Quartermaster training at recent Service School exercises at Great Lakes, was Stuart L. Elting, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Elting, 35 E. Wood St., Palatine. This Bluejacket was selected for his specialized training on the basis of his recruit training aptitude test scores.

Grover Robert Kassel, 29, husband of Mrs. Verna Louise Kassel, Box 73, Wheeling, has won an early promotion in the Navy as result of his past civilian training. Because he has had sufficient experience in a trade essential in the Navy, he was advanced to the rating of Fireman, first class upon completing his recruit training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

Now home on leave, he will report back to the Station for re-assignment to active duty aboard a naval warship or to some naval shore station.

Grover Kassel S/Lc of Wheeling was at home on leave, following the completion of his boot training at Great Lakes. His wife is making her home with her mother, Mrs. Frank Minnick at the present.

L. O. K.

Sending his new address overseas is Mel Kehe of Arlington Heights. It is 1st Lt. Melvin L. Kehe, O-1052419, APO 9610 c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

Still LOK is as we can say about Elmer Lauffenburger of Palatine. His address is Cpl. Elmer Lauffenburger, 16036312, APO 650, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

SIX AIR LINES CHOOSE DOUGLAS C-54 SKYMASTER

Strategic New Douglas C-54 Skymaster

Now being used to transport men and equipment to far-flung battle fronts, the huge Douglas C-54 will be converted for post-war commercial use by American, Eastern, Pan-American, and Pan American-Grace Western and United Airlines.

These six airlines are the first to announce officially the type of equipment that will be used in air transport operations after the war. The commercial version of the C-54 is expected to reduce present long distance travel time by one fourth.

Powered with four Pratt and Whitney engines totaling 4000 horsepower, the C-54 will fly at a cruising speed of 300 m.p.h. and a maximum speed of 350 m.p.h. It is larger than the twin-engine DC-3, now standard on the nation's airways.

This being your war, too, you'll want to know all about how we train you to become a skilled aircraft worker, pay you while you learn, promote you to better paying jobs.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

As far as we are concerned Niles and Libertyville had the best basketball teams in the Northeast Conference this year. The first time we saw either in action except practice games was at the regional tournament. Libertyville had it all over Niles at the tournament in the two occasions that we saw both in action. In fact the Wildcats beat the Trojans decisively 50-29 in the semi-finals. However one game does not make a season. The Trojans lost five on their regular schedule and the Wildcats dropped four. Crystal Lake, like Niles, was slipping at tournament time. However Niles won all seven games against northeast opponents on their regular schedule and gets the nod for the season championship but Libertyville was the top team of the league in the tournament.

Both were great teams and will be as good again next year. Then with a 12 game official schedule we will see who really is the best and our money is on neither of them. We pick Art Njaa's Crystal Lake five to top the Northeast in 1944-45.

Ericksen best in the tournament

A number of times during the basketball season Art Bergstrom told us of the importance of Norman Ericksen to his basketball team. With him out for nearly a month the team played rather mediocre ball and Bergstrom felt his tournament chances depended on Ericksen. After watching the tournament we felt that Ericksen was the best player in it. This lad is the same big blonde who averaged tossing a couple of touchdowns passes every game for Bergstrom's undefeated football team. And he is only a junior.

A thank you to Arlington Dads club

A word of appreciation is in order from Palatine to Arlington. The coaches, the seventh grade boys, and their parents appreciate the opportunity that was given the Arlington church league. It was very sporting of the Arlington Dads club to invite the Palatine lads to come in on their athletic project. To Mr. Harry Robinson and his committee we say thank you and we feel you have started something that is a real contribution to the youth of your community.

Final
New Trier 38, Libertyville 33.

New Trier came from behind to nip Libertyville's Wildcats 38-33 in the regional final last Friday night. The Wildcats had played inspired basketball to whip the two top seeded teams of the tournament, Evanston and Niles, in order to reach the finals. In the final game they were leading New Trier 33-31 with three minutes to play and then faded away to a 38-33 defeat. Frank Carroll, sharp shooting New Trier guard scored 20 points to lead his team to their second regional title in a row. Last year they also beat Libertyville in the finals 29-21.

Warren Boyes and Norman Erickson who played sensational ball in all the Libertyville tournament games were standouts in the final. Boyes scored 14 points and Erickson got six in addition to a fine defensive game. The score was tied 20 all at the half.

Arlington's Frosh-Soph completed their Intramural League schedule last week. Lloyd Baldwin's and Al Griffith's teams were tied, and played off the tie for the championship as a preliminary to last Friday's Junior Varsity vs. Warren game. Griffith's team was the favorite to win. However, Baldwin's quintet upset them in 19-14 thriller. Al Juhnke, a diminutive forward on Baldwin's No. 4 squad, came through in the pinch in the third quarter and delivered the knockout blow to the "Griffiths" hopes. By scoring three field goals in rapid succession he brought his team from behind to take the lead which they hung on to desperately for the remainder of the game.

The entire six boys who competed for the winners each played his part well. Burton Dahlstrom, who wound up in second place in the individual scoring, led his team with eight points.

Al Griffith carried his team with ten points. His buddies didn't come through with their usual quota of points, hence the loss.

Complete season scoring will be listed next week.

Methodist five wins 7th grade championship

The Arlington Heights Methodist team in the seventh grade league won the championship play-off Monday night by defeating Palatine 29-22. Robinson and Stockdale won the Methodist scoring. The Methodist team's only defeat during the regular season was to Palatine by one point. Palatine's only defeat prior to the play-off was to the Presbyterian team by one point in the first game on the schedule. The championship trophy given by the Dad's club was presented at the all star games Wednesday night.

Bensenville in first league loss, 31-21; lights win

Ela finished strong to whip Bensenville's Bisons 31-21 in the game for the championship played at Lake Zurich Tuesday night. Coach Wesner's Ela Bears finished the season with 10 straight league victories. Tuesday's defeat was the only loss in the conference for Coach Menekuin's Bisons.

Both teams were nervous and tense all the first half which was chiefly a defensive battle. The Bisons led 4-3 the first quarter on a basket by Benham and free throws by Standard and Kernats. Meanwhile Ela scored three free throws. Jim Ladd, league leading scorer, got started in the second period and with three field goals paced the Ela team to a 12-10 lead at the intermission. The third period was also very close, ending 19-16.

Ela really opened up in the final eight minutes and scored 12 points to win going away. After Ela got a fair margin the Bisons changed to a man-to-man style of defense and Ela increased their lead. Two successful baskets by Holland with the score 25-21 sewed up the game.

Outstanding for Ela was Jim Ladd who scored 14 points to bring his season total to 127 and give to him the individual scoring championship of the league by a ten point margin over his nearest rival Melvin Vogt of Palatine. George Benham scored nine points to lead the Bisons.

Bensenville's lightweights were victorious 26-12 and finished in 4th place in the final standings. Barrington had finished in front in the lightweight division. Tuesday's games were postponed from February 11 when a bad storm interfered with transportation.

by G. A. McELROY
Four schools are represented of the all tournament team that we have picked after watching all but the final game of the Libertyville tournament. The tournament teams had a predominance of good guards, fair forwards, and a lack of any outstanding centers. Rogers of Evanston at center did not look good but his rebounding and free throwing kept his team in the game all the way against Libertyville. Liebrandt of Niles on the other hand had a very poor night against Libertyville.

Carroll, New Trier guard, who scored 46 points in three games, is placed at forward in our picks. Boyes who scored 40 points for Libertyville gets the other forward spot. Erickson of Libertyville was the standout defensive player of the tournament and the play maker on offense for his team as well as scoring six points in each game. Dick Johnson, Maine guard, collected 27 points in two games and was outstanding on a team that night easily have taken the tournament with a little better shooting ability. In our opinion Carroll and Erickson were the outstanding individuals in the tournament.

DON'T BLAB

DON'T BLAB

DON'T BLAB

Arlington's scrappy Cardinals ended their season in a blaze of basketball achievement. The writer has been predicting all year that our team would show us some real basketball, and the last three games have made this statement an established fact.

Arlington faced the 1943-44 season with probably the smallest (in height), and least experienced squad in its basketball history. Only one member of this squad had earned a letter the previous season. Other boys had played on a Junior-Varsity team that had not fared well in competition. In addition competition in both the northeast and northwest conferences was unusually tough.

While the Cardinals record does not include many wins, it shows a consistent improvement which manifested itself in the scores as the season progressed. For example, Palatine beat the Cards 33-27 at Arlington, but later was barely able to win 32-30 on their own home floor; Woodstock first defeated the Cards 34-17, and in the return game barely eked out a 37-34 win. Niles, conference champs won 53-24, but in the return contest staved off a Cardinal rally to win by a mere 44-39. Arlington lost to Warren 29-23 at Warren, but last Friday easily defeated the Blue Devils 40-26.

These scores do indicate an improvement in the calibre of Arlington basketball as compared to their opponents. Picked by Coach Seidler as his most valuable player was Warren "Horny" Dahlstrom, who was playing his first season of basketball on an organized team. He had no previous varsity or J. V. training or experience.

FUTURE PROSPECTS
The basketball picture should be a lot brighter with the advent of the 1944-45 season. The Cards will lose only four boys from their well-balanced squad, and the J. V.'s should be able to furnish

Arlington in double win over Warren fives

Issue letters to twelve Pirates

Only six boys on each of Palatine's basket ball squads fulfilled the qualifications for letters this past season. A boy must participate in half of the quarters played by the team during the season. He must finish the season as a squad member to qualify, only disabling illness being an excuse. In addition to the calibre of the boys, their team mates, the coach and the game are given plenty of consideration.

Varsity lettermen for the 1943-44 season as announced by Coach G. A. McElroy are Co-Capt. Melvin Vogt, Co-Capt. Harvey Ottendorf, Clarence Herr, Arnold Linne-man, Willard Boward and Clarence Vogt.

Lightweight letter winners selected by Coach J. E. Stutzman are Joe Jost, Raymond Howes, Albert Toppel, Robert Birks, Roger Smith and Milton Hapke.

Seniors win class tourney at Palatine

Palatine's seniors led by Melvin Vogt's 20 points trounced the juniors 35-28 in the finals of the annual Palatine high school interclass tournament. Fumbles and bad passes were turned into enough fast breaks by Ottendorf and Vogt to easily decide the game in the third quarter. Winn with nine points and C. Vogt with seven topped the juniors' scoring while Boward at guard was the Juniors' outstanding individual performer. Herr did some fine rebounding for the seniors and Ottendorf set up Vogt's scoring opportunities. Melvin Vogt got a total of 60 points in the two interclass games to complete a splendid cage career at Palatine high.

Final interclass games Friday at Arlington

Friday, March 10 will mark the end of the basketball season, at Arlington Heights. After that date the basketballs will be stored for the season and the suits packed in mothballs.

The games on Friday will feature the Seniors vs. the Juniors and the Sophomores vs. the Freshmen. Anyone who has witnessed these games in the past know that these games are not only present good basketball but also aggressive basketball. The admission is only 25c and 15c and for that small amount of money you can assure yourself of a good evening's entertainment.

This is positively the last time that it will be possible this season to get a look at next year's team. The first game starts at 7:30.

Cards trip St. Mary's, succumb to Dundee

Heights equad halts Lakers but lose 2nd half, 47-24

Using a specialized zone defense Arlington slowed the highly touted Dundee revolving offense to a standstill. The first half was an even battle in which both teams were forced to use long shots to score. The score at half time was 19-16 in favor of Dundee.

When the second half began several of the Cards were so fatigued from their previous nights efforts that they had to leave the game. As soon as Coach Seidler was sure that he could not win he replaced most of his regulars to rest them for the Warren game Friday night.

The Dundee revolving attack was completely stalled all during the game and they had to resort to a long shooting game featuring Broderick, a very "hot" young man who scored 27 points to hit the jackpot. The Cards refused to break their zone to stop his phenomenal shooting and let him fire away at will.

Elgin, rated as second only to Taylorville among favorites for the state championship, had to come from behind to nose out Dundee in the regional final 44-42. It was a field goal by Bill Goedert, a substitute guard with less than 30 seconds to play which decided the game after deLacey's Dundee Cardinals had led 25-21 at the half and 35-31 going into the final segment. Three baskets were scored in the last minute of play, two by Elgin and one by Dundee.

Elgin led 14-12 at the quarter but lost their star guard Sam Saucedo in the second period on fouls. This cut the efficiency of the Watch City team and they were hard put to win without their spark plug player, Karl Plath, only returning regular from the state tournament team of last year, led the Elgin scoring with 13 points. Brodersdorf scored a similar number for Dundee who played one of their best games of the season. Dundee missed "Red" Schuberg, their leading scorer who a few weeks ago went into the army air corps. Elgin is expected to win the Proviso sectional and advance to the state finals.

Donald Bahr is 'most fit' at Palatine high

Donald Bahr, a junior straight "A" student is the most physically fit student in the Palatine high school according to the navy physical fitness tests that are given each month in the school gym classes. Bahr has been the leader most of the year and like nearly all the other boys has shown a month by month improvement in score. Bahr's score of 71.8 made in the test given last Friday was gained by doing 12 pullups, 42 pushups, 100 situps, 75 squat jumps and 37 squat thrusts. The last named event was the number made in a minute.

Other boys who made scores of over 60 were Albert Hammer, junior, 68.1; Stewart Werner, freshman, 67.3; James Ball, freshman, 65.9; John Anderson, junior, 62.8; Don Weinacht, freshman, 61.4; Hillard Meyer, senior, 61.1; Herman Zoellich, sophomore, 61.1; Kenneth Toppel, freshman, 61.1; Harold Vogt, junior, 60.8; Richard Suthers freshman 60.8; and Raymond Warren, freshman, 60.5.

Slightly less meat in March is outlook

Little more butter, plenty fish, lots of vegetables, no poultry

Seasonal abundance of many food items for civilian supply and a continuation of others on the scarcity list are forecast for March by the nation's largest food distributor. Featured in the combined reports of more than 140 field buying offices of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company are estimates indicating improvement in fish supplies, a slightly shorter supply of meat, sharp cuts in poultry receipts, minor additions to the butter supply, and plenty of fresh vegetables.

Barring further labor difficulties, fish hauls in the North Atlantic area, which have been below normal, and production in the Chesapeake Bay - Norfolk area should offset the "between-season" lull in the Gulf zone. In the Great Lakes area fishing should open on Lake Erie late in March to bring many varieties on the market.

Although pork will remain in liberal supply, a further reduced supply of beef, veal and lamb is likely in March. Smoked meats, with the exception of ham, will be about as plentiful as they were in February, and it is predicted there will be little change in canned meat stocks.

Requisitions of poultry by the armed forces will continue so heavy that civilian supplies of chicken and fowl are expected to be very limited in March. Further word indicates little help from geese, ducks or turkeys which are also on the scarce list. However, the home front will be able to get all the eggs it wants this month and for some time to come, for there will be ample supplies remaining after government needs are met.

Only minor improvement is expected in butter prospects for March with civilian supplies increasing somewhat, but not sufficiently to meet demand. There will be no change in cheese availability, the supplies of all types likely to remain off as they were last month.

Potatoes, cabbage and spinach are so plentiful for March—concurring distributors to use all possibilities that the government is sible means of getting them onto the tables of the consuming public. Lettuce in abundance; asparagus, a seasonal newcomer on the market, more peas than have been seen in some time, plenty of celery and green beans, and a fair showing of cauliflower, tomatoes, beets and escarole are in prospect. Apple supplies will be lower than last year's, pears are due to be scarce, and banana stocks will be hit by shipping difficulties. However, there will be some improvement in imports of grapes from South America and pineapples from Cuba.

Coffee supplies are excellent, with a three months' backlog of green coffee now in the country and arrivals coming at a normal rate.

Vegetables

Homemakers are urged to include supplies of Northern potatoes—such varieties as Cobblers, Chippewas, Triumphs, and Russets. Rural—on their marketing list at the present time, according to Joe Tonkin, Federal Food Reporter for the War Food Administration. These potatoes are priced below Russet Burbanks and other varieties coming from the West and South. Large quantities are now being diverted to dehydrators and some non-food purposes in order to avoid waste. Homemakers should step up their use of these potatoes to prevent supplies of this important food from being lost to non-food uses.

Cabbage, Victory Food Selection at the present time, remains in plentiful supply and is selling at reasonable prices. Southern and Western growers have produced an exceptionally large crop, and it is up to consumers to eat more cabbage. Head lettuce is also in very plentiful supply, is being marketed at reasonable prices, and is highly recommended for frequent use at this time. More carrots are coming in, and prices are edging lower at the wholesale market. Shipments of fresh green spinach from Texas have dropped off and prices are again at ceiling. The same is true of celery, although prices have been climbing somewhat. Cauliflower is more plentiful than other luxury type vegetables, although Brussels sprouts, eggplant, broccoli, and artichokes are also available.

Oranges, grapefruit, and apples are the trio that hold the lead at the fruit counters, so far as supplies are concerned. Most items are rather scarce, including table grapes, winter pears, bananas, and avocados.

V-mail

An American soldier in North Africa filed suit for divorce after failing to hear from his wife for several months. Investigating the wife's complaint, the Army Post Office found that 60 letters sent ordinary mail over a period of two months were transported on one ship that was sunk. A V-mail letter which always arrives safely, was sent to the husband, and the divorce action was called off.

Army teeth

Of the men who have sat in the U. S. Army dentists' chairs since the beginning of the war, about one million have been made dentally fit for duty, the War Department reports. Since Pearl Harbor, the Army Dental Corps has filled more than 21,142,000 teeth, and provided more than 56,000 bridges, 220,000 denture repairs, and 3,235,000 prophylactic and pyorrhea treatments.

Victory gardens

Nearly 40 per cent of all vegetables grown for fresh consumption in the United States last year came from Victory gardens, the War Food Administration reported... WFA says that 52,000 Mexican nationals will be needed to help relieve the farm labor shortage in the United States this year. Approximately 14,000 already are in this country... Living costs for city families decreased two-tenths of one per cent between mid-December and mid-January, the Secretary of Labor reports. Although services continued to increase in cost, both food and clothing costs declined... OPA has granted Regional Administrators authority to reconduct that slaughterers who willfully violate any OPA meat regulation be deprived in whole or in part of their subsidy payments... WPB has authorized the manufacture of approximately half a million enameled cold pack canners with a jar capacity of seven or eight quarts, nine one-pint, or four half-gallons, to be available for this coming season... Rye is not a desirable alcohol-producing grain, and use of large quantities of rye for this purpose is not likely at present, WPB says... Because more batteries are needed for walkie-talkies, bazookas, signal lights, and other war equipment, WPB says there is little chance for an increased supply for civilians this year... WPB will permit limited production of electric flat irons for civilian use, but few of the new irons are expected in retail stores before mid-year... More than 3,000 trucks for civilian use—almost exactly the number planned for—were produced in January according to WPB... WPB has set the 1944 quotas for new glass containers for wines and distilled spirits at 100 per cent of the number used in 1943... Orange shellac, having an OPA ceiling price of 45.1 cents per pound or higher is now available for home use in finishing floors and furniture and for manufacturing and repairing furniture.

Casualties

The first comprehensive report on air and sea losses of the "British Island" military forces was recently announced. Since September, 1939, the Royal Navy has lost 41,000 officers and men—pre-war strength of the Royal Navy, 133,000. One out of every five British Isle seamen, who sail the merchant ships, has been lost at sea. RAF air crews have lost 38,300 killed and 10,400 missing.

Rubber

Despite the success of the synthetic rubber program in the United States, the Combined Raw Material Board reports that the use of natural rubber should continue to be reduced to the minimum. We are consuming natural rubber at a considerably greater rate than we are receiving it from the few sources open to the United Nations, which CRMB says, threatens to curtail the supplies needed for essential war products.

China Waes

While there are no formally organized Chinese "WACS," a number of Chinese generals have agreed to accept women as volunteers and have formed groups into companies and battalions. The women wear the same clothes and get the same pay as men. A private gets the equivalent of approximately one American dollar a month. While most of the women do non-combat work such as nursing, many have seen actual fighting, especially with guerilla units.

THINGS TO COME

"Skin-tight" plastic packages of Stripcoat, a plastic that adheres to the material packed, thus keeping out foreign matter, but strips off like a banana peel... A moving machine that can be mounted on the front of a tractor or jeep and will cut grain so that it falls

Farm gas

Six-month gasoline rations for non-highway use on farms may be issued in installments rather than all at one time, as in the past, the OPA has announced. If the local board has issued the farmer only part of his ration, when the farmer needs more gasoline he makes no formal application but simply asks the board for it. The board then either will issue the remainder of the total six-month ration as originally determined or issue such portion of the remainder as the board decides the farmer needs for the rest of the six-month period.

Pins

In occupied Holland, ordinary straight pins cost about two cents each, if they can be obtained. Aneta, official Netherlands News Agency reports. Black market cooking oil is $35 a bottle and bread $3 for a 28-ounce loaf. A ration coupon for 20 cigarettes costs $7 and a ration coupon for about a quart of milk costs $1.50.

Tea

About 118 cups of tea per person—more than in 1943—will be available for U. S. civilians this year if shipping conditions permit, the War Food Administration said. Compared with our normal consumption of 140 cups, the British consume 2,400 cups per person each year.

Lend-lease

Deliveries of food and other agricultural products for export under the Lend-Lease Act in 1943 totaled 11,488,000,000 pounds, or about double 1942 deliveries of 5,730,000,000 pounds.

Quantities laid down at ship-side during December were somewhat smaller than in November, and October: December deliveries totaled 900,000,000 pounds, compared with 1,015,000,000 in November, and 1,115,000,000 pounds in October.

December deliveries consisted of the following major categories of products (by weight): Sugar, 19 percent; meats, 22 percent; dairy products, 12 percent; fruits, 4 percent; vegetables, 8 percent; grain and seeds, 17 percent; miscellaneous foodstuffs, 3 percent; non-foodstuffs, 1 percent; dried eggs, 3 percent; fats and oils (excluding butter), 11 percent.

Destinations of December deliveries were as follows: British Empire, 42 percent; Russia, 51 percent; North Africa, 5 percent; Greece, West Africa and the Netherlands combined, 2 percent.

Sugar

U. S. civilian supplies of sugar will be 6 per cent less than 1943 consumption, according to WFA, due to sugarcane molasses for industrial alcohol, to increased needs of the armed forces and our allies, and to wartime shipping conditions.

Farmers can't sell surplus eggs

"Eggs seem to be in surplus now, and some are asking how they may sell when local stores have more than they can sell," says Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes. "One way is to contact regular sales houses in town. We called the Peter Fox Sons Co., 1122 Fulton street, Phone: Monroe 7200 who said they would accept case lots of 30 dozens. Ship a case in and you will be paid going prices. The case will be returned for refilling. If you have no case phone or write for one. There are many other handlers which may be located by consulting the classified directory."

Must conserve farm trucks

Motor trucks moved 98 per cent of last year's huge farm crop at some stage of the journey from farm to market despite the fact that there were fewer vehicles available for farm transportation in 1943 than in the preceding year. Frank T. Corcoran, district manager of division of motor transport of Office of Defense Transportation, said today.

The increasing age of farm trucks and shortages of replacement parts and manpower for repair and upkeep contributed to the decline in available motor trucks for handling the crop last year, the ODT said. Another factor, it said, was the drifting away from farm transport by the "for hire" group of carriers to more remunerative fields.

The ODT said that substantial additional progress can be made in this program, and that the farm vehicle section of the division of motor transport is now receiving a favorable reaction from the dairy industry to proposals for industry participation in hastening the study, development and formulation of policies, procedures, rules, programs, formulas and plans for transporting dairy products from farms to processors.

Although the ODT has recommended that more trucks and trailers be provided this year for the movement of agricultural products, it emphasized that farmers should not count on new vehicles, because the number available will be very limited.

Each farmer should treat his present truck as if it were the last one he would be able to obtain for the duration of the war, the ODT said. It urged every owner of a farm truck to adopt immediately, if he has not already done so, a sound program of preventive maintenance to conserve his vehicle carefully and keep it in good repair.

Farm land prices advancing too fast in Illinois

Price of farm land is advancing too rapidly, and getting too high in some parts of Illinois and in other states east of the Mississippi River, according to Charles L. Stewart, professor of agricultural economics of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. End of the war in Europe before the end of 1945 may mean disaster for investors at these abnormal prices.

He cited three comparisons with World War I trends as basis for alarm over present farm price tendencies.

Just as the other war ended with prices of farm products twice as high as they should have been for a smooth 1910 to 1930 course, this war may end with prices of farm products not just twice as high, as now, but between two and three times as high as would be consistent with a smooth 1935 to 1955 course, he said.

Just as the first world war brought a postwar period of sustained scales of cost to producers of farm products in high taxes, relatively high wages, high prices for machinery and high freight rates, this war may also have an aftermath of high costs no less impressive.

Just as the other war did not reach its climax without interest rates rising, this war may be marked in its final months by higher interest rates, especially if reconstruction is started in one major country before the other has surrendered.

Professor Stewart pointed out also that unless farmers act promptly and effectively to restore and increase soil fertility, they may be faced with lowered yields which will not satisfy the demand for farm products from consumers at home and abroad.

Farm registrants must use care in new 401b's

Recently National Director Hershey has stated that Selective Service Boards are to make a more thorough search of younger men in industry implying that those who are not filling the more essential jobs would be subject to military induction. The Cook County War Board believes in the recent agreement with the suburban Selective Service Boards that a means of establishing the amount of production for each agricultural registrant has been set up by the establishment of standards of production. The understanding is that farms that are producing a maximum of production with its labor should not be disturbed.

Also, after conference with the state, sugar beets grown in competition with other vegetables as in Cook County, may be listed as vegetables and count one unit.

The plain facts are, the military is requiring agriculture to release men for service, and the above program is designed to retain those doing the best job of production. It will, therefore, be up to the registrant to establish the production due to his efforts.

On farms that produce milk as their principal sales item, the total units will be increased or decreased according to the amount above or below the standard of 5000 pounds of milk per cow. On the whole, the advisory Farm Committees will have knowledge of the production on a farm and may deviate or increase units according to their knowledge of such farms.

Since Agricultural deferment is necessary for production such information becomes essential in establishing units on various farms. Also, the War Board is of the opinion that some crops considered necessary on vegetable farms may not in reality be unnecessary. We have pointed out that horseradish heretofore was considered unnecessary but now may be viewed in a different light because there will be a large amount of fat pork offered to the public and conditions such as horseradish is essential in securing consumption of this large amount of fat pork.

It is recommended registrants keep a copy of the facts and figures stated in their 401b's and that extreme care should be exercised in giving such information because if erroneous information is presented it will work to the detriment of the registrant.

Funds allotted for procuring farm workers

A vigorous farm recruitment and placement program for 1944 will begin immediately through Illinois. H. P. Rusk, director of the Extension Service in Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, announced today. The Farm Labor Supply Appropriation Act of 1944, approved this week, provides funds to continue the work started April 29, 1943, by passage of Public Law 45.

Responsibility for recruitment and placement within each state is assigned to the agricultural extension services of the land-grant colleges with the county farm and home advisers assisting at the county level. Various state extension services spend less than 5 million dollars of the 13 million dollars allotted in 1943 for an eight-month period. C. A. Hughes will have Cook County in charge. The staff directing the farm labor program at the state level in Illinois is: P. E. Johnston, state supervisor, Mrs. Madge L. Little, assistant state supervisor, Woman's Land Army, and F. F. Giggick, assistant state supervisor, Victory Farm Volunteers.

The most serious farm labor problem this year is the shortage of experienced year-round farm hands, it was reported. Latest figures from farm advisers show unfilled orders for 736 married men and 525 single men, with only 291 married men and 78 single men available. In comparison with the recruitment campaign now getting under way, Dean Rusk urged all men with agricultural backgrounds and experience who now are in non-essential industries to apply to farm advisers for farm work.

"Several points in Cook County will be opened for labor offices," states Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes, "a secretary is now located in each office where application to work or for help may be made. From the Chicago boys in camps we will select the outstanding boys for general and dairy farms. Just now I am looking for a good man who knows Cook County for use in this program, who is industrious and willing to work."

Lack of wooden containers is food threat

Illinois growers who will need more wooden containers for their 1944 crops than they used last year were urged today by the nation's leading buyer of fresh fruits and vegetables to begin accumulating used containers or run the risk of not getting their produce to market at harvest time.

"Production of new containers will run far behind last year's curtailed output, while demand is expected to show a marked increase," said Harvey A. Baum, head of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company's produce-buying operations. "Our Illinois field office reports that an acute shortage is likely to exist there in bushel baskets for peaches, hogs and climax baskets for tomatoes and hampers for pears and beans."

Since last year mills have been forced to abandon container manufacture because of lumber and labor shortage or a shift to war work. In 1943 forty per cent of all containers went into war use, while prior to America's entry into the war less than 15 per cent were needed for military purposes.

Additional container requirements for the nation as a whole, said Baum, may come to 45 to 60 million more than in 1943, if nothing unforeseen impedes agricultural production. "The only reasonable hedge against the threatened shortage is in the creation of used container stockpiles by farmers and return of all containers by housewives and retailers so that they may get to the growers who so urgently need them," he said. A 10 per cent increase in vegetable acreage for all growers will mean a further drain on container supplies, he said.

Cook county to have emergency food assistant

Mrs. Ruth Malmstrom has been appointed by the University of Illinois to assist Mrs. Marie Cornelius, Home Bureau Adviser of Cook county in the "War-time Food Emergency Program." This program is to be set up in the county during the coming months.

Mrs. Malmstrom will be available to give food talks and demonstrations on food production, preservation and conservation and nutrition, to both rural and urban areas in the county such as the PTA, Woman's Club, Garden Club, Girls' and Boys' Scouts, 4-H, etc.

She is a graduate of the Home Economics Department of Iowa State College and has a background of teaching and commercial experience.

You can obtain the services of Mrs. Malmstrom by writing the Home Bureau Office in Des Plaines.

With Uncle Sam

At sea

Herman Becker of Arlington Heights writes from aboard ship. "I am back out to sea again after spending seven days at home. It sure seemed like a dream that I was home. In fact I didn't believe I had my leave until I was on the train. My mother and dad didn't know anything about it and they had quite a surprise."

"I enjoy the paper from home very much. Although I don't receive them all the time, but I always have a stack waiting for me when I reach port. It sure makes a fellow feel good when he reads the paper and finds out what's going on back home."

His address is Herman Becker, S-1/c, Armed Guard, c/o Fleet Post office, San Francisco, Calif.

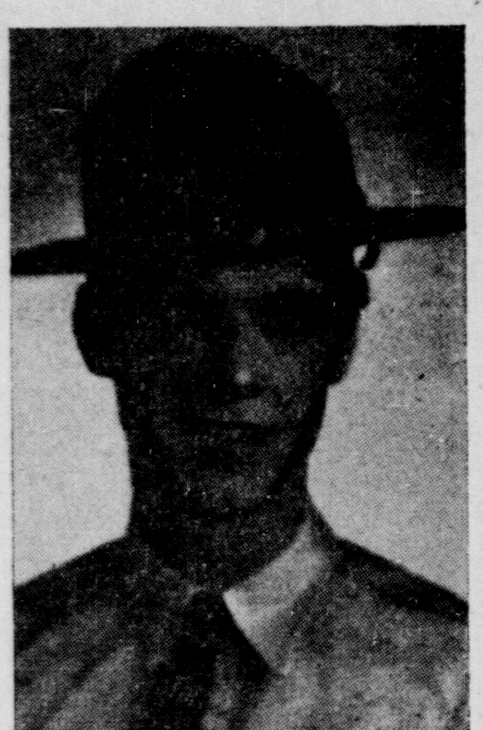

Mississippi

The Paul Stem family of Palatine received a letter from their son Robert who was transferred last week to Keesler Field, Miss. His new address is now Pvt. Robert Stem, 36759044, Sqdn. 411 T.S.S. Barracks 14. Robert is attending A.M. School and likes it very much.

India

Word has been received by Mrs. Leo Vernon of Mt. Prospect that her son Leo Jr. is now somewhere in India.

Leo was stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas for 1 year, where he became an expert on the motorcycle.

From there he was sent to Fort Ord, Calif. where he remained for 3 weeks when he was sent to an Australian port with destination unknown.

He writes that he spent a long time on the ship and the food was excellent with nothing much to do but exercise. He says that they were given a day's liberty in Australia and found the people very nice.

His next letter dated Jan. 31 states, "I am somewhere in India. The food is good and officers nice. We live in barracks made of stone with a thatched roof. The Indian people are ok, as long as we treat them right. It is a strange country with many odd customs."

In another letter dated Feb. 3— he writes, "I am picking up a few of the Indian words already. The Indians make about a rupee (30 cents) a day and think we are very rich. In town they have some beautiful rugs you would be proud to have and they are very cheap. Please phone the Mt. Prospect Herald and give them my new address. I enjoy the paper."

His address is Pfc. Leo Vernon Jr. 16146545, APO 885 c/o Postmaster, New York, N.Y.

WAVES

Winifred Wensley of Arlington Heights is home on leave from the WAVES. She is a yeoman, second class.

Oklahoma

Staff Sergeant Fred Elsner of East Maine is home on furlough from Alva, Oklahoma. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Elsner.

Art Miller returns from Pacific area

One of Wheeling's youngest servicemen to be a veteran of World War II, from the firing of the first guns at Pearl Harbor, Arthur L. Miller, Yeoman 1/c, arrived home last week, Friday afternoon, on a five day leave, while en route to classes at Illinois Normal at Bloomington.

Bud's service ribbons are liberally sprinkled with bronze and silver stars and a tiny numeral four denotes the four invasions which his ship covered while he was aboard. He also wears the ribbons for the navy good conduct medal and the purple heart.

Arthur who is a graduate of Arlington Heights high school enlisted in the navy in December of 1940 at the age of 17 years. Early in 1941 he was assigned to a heavy cruiser, U.S.S. Salt Lake City and was in the vicinity of Pearl Harbor on that fateful day of Dec. 7, 1941.

Since then his ship has blazed a glorious trail from the south to the north Pacific. Her exploits in the conquest of the Solomons were widely publicized in papers just a year ago. From March until October of 1943 she was a part of a task force patrolling the Aleutian waters.

From a graphic description of one of the fiercest engagements against the greatest odds in which Bud participated, read "My Speed Zero," in the Feb. 5 issue of the Saturday Evening Post. This is an authentic account of an American task force of one heavy cruiser, a light cruiser and three destroyers which routed a Japanese task force twice its size in Aleutian waters near the Komandorskie Islands last March.

After spending the summer in Alaskan waters they headed back for the South Pacific in October where they have been so busy this winter that most of Bud's Christmas presents still have not caught up with him.

Arthur has been recommended for officer's training and he left his ship just after they assisted in the invasion of the Marshall's. He will receive his basic college work at Illinois Normal and will receive his naval officers training on the east coast.

Florida

Alexander Kouzmanoff, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kouzmanoff of Bensenville, has begun studies at Miami Beach, Fla. Army Air Forces Officer Candidate School, which, when successfully completed, will qualify him for commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Forces.

He came to Miami Beach from Mitchell Field, Long Island, N.Y. where he held the rank of Cpl.

Before entering the army, he worked as architectural designer on the Bermuda Air Base in New York and Bermuda with Shaw, Naess & Murphy.

Now stationed at Boca Raton field, Florida, is Kent Kaiser of Mt. Prospect.

"Been getting the Mt. Prospect paper quite regularly."

"Met Alfred Stier and Herman Hasz, both from Mt. Prospect while at Camp Murphy, Fla."

His address is Cpl. Kent Kaiser, 637 T.S.S., Boca Raton Field, Fla.

Pennsylvania

Pvt. W. C. Beckman, USMC, of Arlington Heights is now stationed in Pennsylvania where he is receiving advanced training. He enlisted in the Marine Corps in the summer of 1942 and was allowed to complete his second year of college at the University of Nebraska before being called into training on July 1, 1943.

Before leaving for Pennsylvania Bill was stationed with the Marine Unit at Northwestern University. His address is: Pvt. W. C. Beckman, USMC, Brks. 13, N.T.U.M.C., State College, Penn.

New Jersey

From Fort Dix, New Jersey, comes word of Milton Bohm of Mt. Prospect.

"I enjoy receiving the Mt. Prospect Herald as it has so much news of the folks at home. The items from the boys in the service are interesting too, as I know many of them."

"I have moved again and wish to change my address. It now is Cpl. Milton Bohm, Co. B, 94th Sig. Bn., Fort Dix, N.J."

Missouri

Lt. Philip Carpenter of Wheeling and his bride were home on furlough for several weeks. They divided their time between Phil's parents here and his wife's parents in Chicago. Lt. Carpenter is with the 166th Infantry now stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Herbert G. Mau, 41, Arlington Heights, and Gundru Due, 35, Elmwood Park.

Export Vehicles
Less than 10 per cent of Canadian automotive vehicle production is allotted to Canadian forces at home and abroad. The remaining 90 per cent is sent to other United Nations.

Test Naval Gun Without Firing Shot

OUTSTANDING among the contributions made by the automobile industry in the production of armament is the device shown above which tests, without actually firing the weapon, the kick, rammer and firing of the big 5-inch naval gun which is being assembled at the Fisher Body Pontiac Division. Developed by Fisher engineers in order to create simulated firing conditions thus eliminating the need for a firing range the apparatus substitutes compressed air to obtain conditions resulting from actually discharging the gun. Production of gun has reached volume proportions with work on job divided among four Fisher plants in Michigan.

Colorado

Now at Camp Hale, Colorado, is Forrest Bass of Arlington Heights.

"I am now stationed at Camp Hale. I'm in the Ski Troops. Camp Hale is a nice camp. But I don't care much for the altitude. It is 9,500 feet and plenty of snow."

"I haven't done any skiing this winter as yet, but probably will in the near future. Have been here about 9 days now. Before I was stationed at Camp Carson, Colorado, where we got some mountain training, but we will get a lot more of it here."

His address is, Pfc. Forrest I. Bass, 36039030, Co. B, 87th Inf. Regt., APO 345 U.S. Army, Camp Hale, Colorado.

No. Carolina

Leif Maseng of Mt. Prospect has been transferred to Fort Bragg, North Carolina. He had been enrolled in the ATSP at Washington & Jefferson college, Washington, D.C. and Chaplain Stevens of Mt. Prospect spent an evening together at Bragg last week.

Word reaching us from Bluetenthal field, North Carolina, reveals that Bill Wensley has undergone an appendix operation. Pfc. Wensley hopes to have a short furlough while recuperating. His sister, Winifred, yeoman second class in the WAVES, is home on leave.

Louisiana

Russell Dahlstrom of Mt. Prospect is attending Tulane university, New Orleans, Louisiana, as a part of the V-12 program. He had transferred from the Seabees, first reporting to Tulane about four months ago.

At present Russell is home on 14 days furlough. His address is Russell Dahlstrom AS V12, Co 3 Plt 2, East Dorm., Tulane U., New Orleans, La.

Paratrooper J. Brown of Northbrook is home on furlough from Camp Polk, Louisiana.

Illinois

From Camp Ellis, Illinois, comes word of LeRoy Nawrot of Palatine.

"I have been receiving the Palatine paper but since I have been transferred, I haven't been getting it. I miss it very much."

"I am now at Camp Ellis, Illinois in the quartermaster's, a pretty good outfit. Here I have to get a little more training. I had been in Fort Custer in the M.P.s."

His address is: Pvt. LeRoy Nawrot, 674th Q.M.S.C. Co. Camp Ellis, Illinois.

Hawaii

Corporal Clarence Moeller of Wheeling is stationed on one of the Hawaiian Islands at present and is enjoying the warm weather of their so-called winter. He is hoping to look up Corp. Wm. Hugo while there.

So. Pacific

Marine Corporal Roy W. Koltz of Rand Road, Arlington Heights, has been promoted to his present rank from Private First Class somewhere in the South Pacific. He is the husband of Mrs. Virginia K. Koltz of Arlington Heights.

So. Pacific

S/Sgt. Chester C. Voss, son of Mrs. Melvin Buss of Mt. Prospect has recently been moved to another island in the South Pacific.

"It certainly seems good to be in civilization again and go to town. It's wonderful! I got a pass so I roamed around and looked over the town. I stayed overnight at the Red Cross and believe me, did I ever have a good night's sleep. That mattress felt good and I'm not kidding."

"The meals up town and here at camp are really wonderful. They couldn't be better. There isn't anything rationed here, so we can get anything in town that we want. The civilian people, white and dark, are quite friendly."

Here's a poem I ran across:

WITHIN MY HEART
O, how I love to reminisce
(As mothers always do)
Relive again within my heart
The childhood days of you,
I picture you upon the floor
With blocks and cars and train
The little wooden soldiers too,
And every kind of plane.
The day you started off to school—
It was a big event.
I see you now, your rosy face,
As down the street you went.
You liked to skate and ride a bike.
Then added to the list,
The love of books and radio—
There wasn't much you missed.
The little boy has disappeared
Except, perhaps to me,
Today you wear a uniform,
You're far across the sea.
How very proud I am of you
And all that you have done.
But reminiscing plays its part
And brings you close my son.

His address is: S/Sgt. Chester C. Voss 36709781, APO 913 2/ Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

Writing from the South Pacific area is George Siegler of Palatine.

"Have been receiving the Palatine Enterprise for some time and enjoy reading it very much. Have read about where some of the boys are and about what they are doing."

"I have seen a lot of country in my 2 1/2 years in service. I have been in Hawaii, Guadalcanal and Villa La Villa. Cannot tell my present location."

"I hope to get to run into some other boys from home out here. There are just three of us boys from Illinois in the Co. We have quite a time together when there isn't much doing."

"Enclosed is a picture of myself and buddies drinking beer. The first in a year. Boy, was it good. Give my regards to the people of Palatine and to the Legion auxiliary for sending us the Enterprise. Keep it coming."

His address is T-Cpl. George D. Siegler, 36047493, APO 25 PM, San Francisco, California.

Awarded oak leaf cluster

By direction of the President the Oak Leaf Cluster in lieu of an additional air medal was awarded February 1 by Lt. General Millard F. Harmon, Commanding United States Army Forces in the South Pacific Area, to Paul F. Carroll, Jr., of Arlington Heights, Second Lieutenant, Air Corps, United States Army, as navigator from July 4 to September 28, 1943.

Oak Leaf Clusters in lieu of an additional Air Medal are awarded to AAF members by direction of the President for meritorious achievement while participating in sustained combat operational missions, and when flights are of a hazardous nature during which there was traversed an area where enemy anti-aircraft fire is effective, or where enemy airplanes or exposure to enemy fire is habitually encountered.

Numerous Air Medals and Oak Leaf Clusters have been awarded to members of the 13th AAF, who wage a tireless fight against the Jap air and ground forces. Their efforts exhibit courage and reflect the highest credit on the military forces of the U. S.

Italy

Writing from Italy is Franklin Bublitz of Arlington Heights.

"Have been sick the last few days with a light case of the flu. Feel much better now, thanks to the swell doctors they have over here. They certainly take good care of us fellows."

"Have been taking some physical training the last few days and feel a little stiff. Haven't had any for several months and am not in very good shape."

"Saw Joe E. Brown in person over here. He's quite a character—enjoyed seeing him. I suppose as time goes by we'll be seeing more movie stars over here. I sure hope they put on as good a show as he does."

"Have been on quite a few missions already. Can't say I enjoy them too much. Things get a little hot even though the thermometer reads 20 below. First one was a thrill. I'll never forget it. The thrill has worn off now, especially when you have to sweat it out every time."

"Bought some of this Italian cheese. It tasted pretty good when I sampled it at the store. Now that I have it in the barracks, it gets worse every time I take a bite. It has a slight odor and I can't get anyone to help me eat it."

"Doubt if I'll ever want to look at a bottle of wine when I get home. There's so much of the stuff around here I get sick of it. Guess I'll have to stick to fruit juices while I'm here."

His address is Lt. Franklin J. Bublitz, O-688305, APO 520 c/o P.M., New York, N.Y.

Pfc. Melvin Beese, son of Mrs. Marie Beese, rural route, Mt. Prospect has been awarded the purple heart. Mrs. Beese received a telegram Saturday from the government stating that her son had been wounded in the right arm while in combat in Italy. This was not startling news because she had received a letter Feb. 20 from Melvin written by him Feb. 9 in which he stated that he had been wounded on Feb. 5 and awarded the purple heart.

"I am in a nice quiet hospital and getting a nice rest. I can use some letters from my friends at home as I have plenty of time to read," wrote Melvin. No letter has been received from him since that time.

The war department notified Mrs. Beese that she would be notified of Melvin's new address which will be published in these columns as soon as received.

Correcting part of last week's address given for Pvt. Gabriel M. Pityer of Arlington Heights, it should be ASN 16128057, APO 469, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

California

Among those graduating from an intensive course of Motor Machinists' mate training at recent Service School exercises at Great Lakes was Oscar Braun, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Braun, 13 E. Green, Bensenville.

This Bluejacket was selected for his specialized training on the basis of his recruit training aptitude test scores. Graduates from the twenty specialized courses at the Service School are sent to sea, to shore stations, or to advanced schools, for active duty or further training.

Fort Sheridan

Carl Kester of Mt. Prospect is home this week after completing ASTP training at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. He reports to Ft. Sheridan March 13.

Oahu

LeRoy Steege of Arlington Heights is rounding out his first year of service in the Hawaiian Islands. He is the nephew of Mrs. Paul Weinrich, 204 S. Highland, Arlington Heights.

LeRoy entered the service in October of 1942, first stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington. He was then transferred to the Hawaiian Islands.

He is attending a jungle school on Oahu island, but gets to Honolulu about twice a month. "The food is good, but sure would enjoy some home cooking for a change," writes LeRoy.

"Graduated from this joint and expect to get home soon. Sure will be swell to get away from the army for a few days. It's been 19 months since my last furlough. It promises to be my last until this thing is over so I plan to put plenty of living into that short time."

His address is Lt. Franklin J. Bublitz, O-688305, APO 520 c/o P.M., New York, N.Y.
